Family Gathering At Eisenhower Farm Friday Marks Mrs. Doud's Birthday; President Is Happy

Friday, May 13, 1955, was a memorable and not an unlucky day for Gettysburg.

For the first time in history Old Glory and the President's official flag flew from a 30-foot flagpole in front of the Gettysburg home of the President of the United States. Dwight D. Eisenhower is the first President of the United States to officially reside in this historic community.

Friday also was the 77th birthday anniversary of Mrs. John S. Doud, mother of Mamie Eisenhower, "First Lady" of the land... and it was the first time in history that the mother-in-law of the President of the United States celebrated the occasion with a family dinner at the President's Gettysburg home.

Gettysburg Times There
Then, too, it was the first time in history that The Gettysburg Times was officially recognized by the White House as an accredited newspaper to have representatives attend a Presidential conference. A reporter and a photographer for The Gettysburg Times, believed to be the smallest newspaper in the world to be so recognized, were among the historic "picture-making" of Mrs. Doud's birthday celebration. The Times' representatives were Paul L. Roy and Hugh C. McIlhenny.

Friday, also, was the first day that reporters and photographers were admitted to the farm property since the distinguished family officially "moved in."

And, despite the heavy downpour, the press corps made the most of it. Scores of photographs were taken of the 10 Eisenhowers and guests as they stood on the farmhouse porch and willingly and happily posed for the photographers and answered "oodles" of questions.

Ike Arrived At 2 P.M.
For some time there was some apprehension about whether the press corps would have an opportunity to take pictures and interview the Eisenhower party.

Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother arrived in Gettysburg Wednesday afternoon. "Mamie" did a little shopping Thursday afternoon. President Eisenhower came to Gettysburg Friday afternoon about 2 o'clock. Marvin Arrowsmith, of the White House press corps, informed The Gettysburg Times that pictures would be available at the farm at 5 o'clock and that The Times was invited. James C. Hagerly, President Eisenhower's press secretary, had officially accredited The Times some time ago.

Shortly before 5 o'clock the Secret Service telephoned the correspondents at the Hotel Gettysburg and said that if the inclement weather prevailed the picture-taking would be called off because an outdoor site had been planned.

Caravan Moves In
A few minutes later the reporters and photographers left the hotel for the farm. They parked on the right side of the Water Works Rd. at the entrance to the farm and waited for the official announcement. It was raining heavily and some of the men were skeptical.

Finally, a few minutes after 5 o'clock the guard on duty at the entrance signaled for the men to drive in. The caravan was parked around the circular drive on the west side of the farm house. A minute or so later President Eisenhower came to one of the doors and told the correspondents that they could take pictures in front of the house.

Immediately the photographers starting "shooting," taking pictures of the house, the new flagpole, the two flags, the sun glint in the front yard, and other "shots." Then the President called: "Come on, we're waiting for you" and the entire corps trooped through the rain to the front porch where the President and Mamie and eight others were waiting for them.

"The Entire Family"
The President and his party were in a happy mood. They all beamed, even seven and one-half-month-old Julia Frances "Peaches" Gill, great-granddaughter of Mrs. Doud, who laughed constantly and kept wailing and chattering with the President who responded laughingly.

Mrs. Doud stood behind the President and Mamie, clutching a corsage which she frequently smelled and had her daughter and son-in-law do, repeatedly, at the request of the photographers.

"This is the entire family," said the President.
"Except for John and Barbara (their son and daughter-in-law) and their kids," Mamie corrected. "That's right," said the President.

"Gifted Eagle Is Weatherwise"
The Chief Executive kept looking toward the flags on the flagpole and finally said: "I can't tell you how pleased I am over those flags... the flagpole is a gift from a group of Republicans in New York state... ask Jim (Hagerly) he can tell you who they are... I've for-

"Our Highest Calling"

The sick are ever among us, demanding the best scientific service and loving care we can provide. We have a sacred duty to make available the best facilities and opportunities for the provision of this care and service.

The Annie M. Warner Hospital has served exceptionally well for thirty-three years, but now the increasing need on the part of those to whom it ministers, demands a continuing advance in every aspect of its program.

More extended medical care, expanded hospital facilities, and more specialized treatment for people of all ages and with every disease stand before us as a most urgent and immediate need. It is not only our duty and pride, but it is good common sense to give this Fund Drive our full support and most generous contributions. As we answer human need, we strengthen our own lives and our community, and we lift the level of all life.

This is our highest calling as servants of God.

Friday, May 13, 1955, was a memorable and not an unlucky day for Gettysburg.

For the first time in history Old Glory and the President's official flag flew from a 30-foot flagpole in front of the Gettysburg home of the President of the United States. Dwight D. Eisenhower is the first President of the United States to officially reside in this historic community.

Friday also was the 77th birthday anniversary of Mrs. John S. Doud, mother of Mamie Eisenhower, "First Lady" of the land... and it was the first time in history that the mother-in-law of the President of the United States celebrated the occasion with a family dinner at the President's Gettysburg home.

Gettysburg Times There
Then, too, it was the first time in history that The Gettysburg Times was officially recognized by the White House as an accredited newspaper to have representatives attend a Presidential conference. A reporter and a photographer for The Gettysburg Times, believed to be the smallest newspaper in the world to be so recognized, were among the White House reporters and photographers at the Eisenhower farm for the historic "picture-making" of Mrs. Doud's birthday celebration. The Times' representatives were Paul L. Roy and Hugh C. McIlhenny.

Friday, also, was the first day that reporters and photographers were admitted to the farm property since the distinguished family officially "moved in."

And, despite the heavy downpour, the press corps made the most of it. Scores of photographs were taken of the 10 Eisenhower family and guests as they stood on the farmhouse porch and willingly and happily posed for the photographers and answered "oodles" of questions.

SEEK 2 HIT-RUN DRIVERS AFTER 4 CRASHES HERE

Four auto accidents occurred on Gettysburg's rain-soaked streets during late Friday afternoon and Friday night. No injuries or arrests were reported, although two hit-and-run drivers are being sought.

Philip J. McBride, Arlington, Va., was driving north on Steinwehr Ave., and stopped for the Baltimore St. traffic light at 6:15 o'clock. Carl H. Sandberg, 70, Smyrna, Del., was coming up behind him and was unable to stop in time. The front of Sandberg's car crashed into the rear of McBride's, causing damage estimated at $200 to the former and $75 to the latter.

Miss Genevieve L. Reaver, 19, 218 Howard St., was reported to have been heading west on Water St. at 7 o'clock, and stopped at the stop sign at Carlisle St., and then pulled out. In the middle of the street, her car was struck on the right rear fender by Edward T. Vincent, 44, Endicott, N. Y., who was heading south on Carlisle.

The force of the collision pushed Miss Reaver's vehicle into Harold S. Brown, 23, 45 W. Water St., who had been driving east on Water St., but had stopped to wait for the intersection to clear. Damage was estimated at $150 to Vincent, $150 to Brown, and $75 to Miss Reaver.

Hit-Run Crashes

At 9:30 o'clock, Feler Cooper, Sigma Chi fraternity house, told borough police that a car had crashed into his vehicle, parked on Carlisle St., but had not stopped to report the mishap. Police are investigating. He reported minor damage to the left rear fender.

Shortly after midnight Jude F. Ginter, Hanover, reported that he had hit the rear of the car in front of him when the other car stopped for the blinker light at Baltimore and Steinwehr Ave., started across, and then stopped suddenly again. The other driver did not stop to identify himself, although Ginter had sustained damage estimated at $200 by police.

NAME JUDGES FOR ROAD-E-O

The 31 contestants will compete in cars donated by Adams County Motors, Gettysburg Motors, McCauslin Motors and Warren Chevrolet.

An invitation to attend Sunday's event was extended to the public by Lyndale Brandon, general chairman of the event, who said, "The high school student who drives a car safely and skillfully is seldom recognized. This is an opportunity to watch the good teen-age drivers perform."

"Our Highest Calling"

The sick are ever among us, demanding the best scientific service and loving care we can provide. We have a sacred duty to make available the best facilities and opportunities for the provision of this care and service.

The Annie M. Warner Hospital has served exceptionally well for thirty-three years, but now the increasing need on the part of those to whom it ministers, demands a continuing advance in every aspect of its program.

More extended medical care, expanded hospital facilities, and more specialized treatment for people of all ages and with every disease, stand before us as a most urgent and immediate need. It is not only our duty and privilege, but it is good common sense to give this Fund Drive our full support and most generous contributions. As we answer human need, we strengthen our own lives and our community, and we lift the level of all life. This is our highest calling as servants of God.

OLD BUSINESS THEORIES ARE UP FOR DISCARD

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Friday the 13th may be a good time to look at some business traditions many people believe will be shown up this year as merely superstitions. So far 1955 has turned in a number of surprises and may well test a lot of economic theories. Here are a few:

Traditionally people aren't supposed to buy new cars in any volume until spring makes them restless and eager to get on the highway.

More Children Too
However, people began buying new cars this time while they still were shopping for a Christmas tree. Cold weather buying season.

In the building industry, tradition has it that the sale of new homes bears a close relation to the marriage rate. This year the building of new homes as well in excess of the number of marriages. Tradition isn't working in 1955, builders say, for these reasons:
Families are having more children than used to be the fashion, and need larger quarters. Many families have larger incomes and feel they can afford the monthly mortgage payments. Mortgage terms are easier too.
There is a tradition about the economy in general that is up for a test just now. It is the business cycle theory.

Old Theory Up For Test
A bust always follows a boom, according to the history books. So far, the postwar boom has had only two upsets both relatively mild. One was the inventory recession of 1949-50. The other was the adjustment of 1953-54. The much-feared bust isn't in sight. At the moment, business is so

2,000 ANGLERS AT TROUT RUN

BELLEfonte, Pa. (AP)—Over 2,000 anglers were expected to try their luck today at the 22nd annual opening of "Fisherman's Paradise," one of the world's most famous trout streams.
Fishing officially began at 9 a. m. at the special project operated by the state Fish Commission on a one-mile stretch of nearby Spring Creek.

A unique feature of the spot is that only one fish can be killed by each angler on any one day during the season. When the kill is made, he must stop fishing.

Last year's opening day found a record 2,310 fishermen registered at the project. They caught 6,504 trout but killed only 757, the largest being a brown trout 2 feet long and weighing five pounds 1 ounce.

The special season will extend through July 16 with fishing legal daily except Sunday from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

NAUTILUS OFF ON LONG CRUISE

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The atomic-powered submarine Nautilus left here at 8:30 a. m. today in a second trip at starting on her first long shakedown cruise. She is scheduled to arrive at Puerto Rico Sunday, and then head for the Virgin Islands.

The Nautilus returned to her berth here yesterday after a steam pipe burst off Block Island, R. I. She had started on the cruise Tuesday with Adm. Robert Carney, chief of naval operations, on board. The spokesman said the pipe break occurred after Adm. Carney was transferred to another ship off Long Island for a flight back to Washington.

The break was so small, the Navy said, that the submarine could have continued on its journey. But she was so close to her base at the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corp. that Cmdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson decided to take her back for the repairs.

Scelba Retains Job As Italian Premier

ROME (AP)—Premier Mario Scelba set about clearing up strife in his party today to save his 15-month-old government.

Gronchi's election April 28 rocked Scelba and his center coalition government. Although the

PUC Sets Hearings On Power Substation

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission today set June 3 for public hearings in Media on a Philadelphia Electric Co. plan to build a control equipment substation in Delaware County.

Proposed construction of the equipment station in the Laughhead Avenue - Linwood street area of Lower Chichester Twp. is opposed by township officials.

gotten for the moment who they are.

"I'll have you know, that eagle on top of the pole serves as a weather-vane and shows the direction the wind is blowing."

The President wore a tan shirt, brown coat and trousers, and a flowered tie with tie clasp, and loafers.

In Green Print Dress
Mrs. Eisenhower wore a green and white flowered print summer dress with white slippers. Her mother wore what one reporter (male) described as a white flowered and charcoal summer dress.

The porch was comfortably furnished with summer furniture. The entire front of the porch, 15 to 20 feet long, has a plate glass front with huge glass sliding doors the height of the porch.

Mrs. Eisenhower, her mother and the President did everything the photographers asked them to do. With the downpour, a strong wind was blowing. Finally Mamie folded her arms tightly about her and started to withdraw from the wind saying: "I'd better get out of this draft."

The "First Lady" who has not completely recovered from a serious virus infection, looked well and happy. She was smiling nearly all the time and demonstrated warm affection for her guests.

Editor Chats With Ike

When photographers asked to have the guests identified, the President complied immediately and Mrs. Doud chimed in with "Don't forget, these are my children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren."

Paul L. Roy, editor of The Gettysburg Times, was introduced to the President by Marvin Arrowsmith of The Associated Press. Roy, who had met the President on two previous occasions, told the President that he had three gifts for him from the World War Tank Corps Association, which held a convention here last summer.

He asked the President if he wanted them. The President said, "I sure do." They are a small green granite box, highly polished, from Vermont; a huge coconut from Hawaii and a plaster mini-julep cup from Kentucky. Sand was shipped in these containers to Gettysburg and it was placed in a hole into which a pine tree was planted on the battlefield where the Tank Corps members, marking the site of Eisenhower's headquarters when he commanded Camp Colt.

Inquiries About Tree

The tree was not mentioned to the President but when the Tank Corps gifts were mentioned Eisenhower asked "By the way, how is the tree coming along that was damaged?" Was it badly damaged? Will it live? He was told that nursery experts hope to save it.

The President was asked if he noticed much of a change in the farm house since he was last here. "Oh my yes. This porch wasn't finished then."

Although there was no indication from the Eisenhower that the picture making was ended, the photographers closed their cameras, the reporters tucked their copy paper in their pockets and the press corps expressed their thanks, said goodbye and departed. Several shook hands with Mrs. Doud and offered congratulations.

The members of the Washington press corps who were in attendance at the farm house were Marvin Arrowsmith and Henry L. Griffin of the AP, John L. Cutter and Charles Corte of the UP, Charles S. Von Friend of CBS, Bruce Hordel of CBS-TV, Jack Lantz of INP, Robert G. Nixon of INS, Bill Richards of Hearst-Metro-Telenews, Bill Smythe of UP-Movietone News, Harry Tugander of Universal Newsreel, and Paul L. Roy and Hugh C. McElhenny of The Gettysburg Times.

White House Doctor Here
Dr. Walter R. Tkach, one of the White House physicians, accompanied the press corps to Gettysburg but did not go to the farm-house Friday afternoon.

G. Henry Roth is also accredited as a photographer and reporter for The Times but was not at Friday's conference.

Among the flowers sent to Mrs. Doud for her birthday was a huge bouquet from "The People Of Gettysburg," ordered by The Times.

NEW FLAG AND POLE AT FARM PLEASE IKE

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Talk about a man being pleased—you should have seen President Eisenhower admire his new flag pole with the Stars and Stripes flying from it.

The pole, about 30 feet high, is on the spacious front lawn of the President's new country home here. The deep blue presidential flag flutters just below the national emblem.

The pole is the gift of the Suffolk County Republican Club of New York State, and it had been put in place shortly before Eisenhower arrived from Washington yesterday to spend the weekend and to help celebrate the 77th birthday of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver.

Talked To Newsmen
With a family group gathered around them, the chief executive and Mrs. Eisenhower stood on the glass enclosed patio of their home while he talked to newsmen. "I can't tell you how pleased I am about those flags," Eisenhower remarked.

He added it wasn't a very good day for them to be flying because of the steady rain. But he pointed to a gilded metal eagle atop the pole and said:

"I'll have you know that eagle serves as weather vane and shows the direction of the wind." Mrs. Eisenhower appeared to be completely recovered from the illness which had caused cancellation of all her engagements the last two weeks. The illness, described by the White House as the aftermath of a respiratory infection, started last March and became a political issue.

On the patio yesterday, the First Lady was all smiles. She looked radiant and well rested.

The First Lady and her mother arrived at the Eisenhower farm Wednesday from Washington. The President drove here yesterday afternoon.

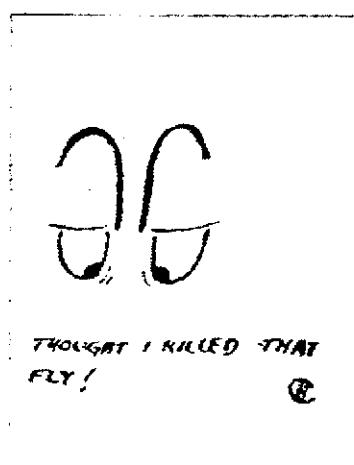

On Thursday Mrs. Eisenhower created some excitement in downtown Gettysburg by showing up at a grocery store to do her own shopping. She also visited a five and ten cent store.

The President plans to return to Washington tomorrow evening.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. George M. Leader said Friday he has "complete confidence" in the ability of the state Athletic Commission to handle the Harold Johnson-Julie Mederos fight issue — revolving around a physician's finding that Johnson was drugged before the fight in Philadelphia last week.

The governor said he has no idea of abolishing the commission and returning control of boxing to local authorities. Instead, he said the trend is in the other direction — toward possible federal control.

NEW FLAG AND POLE AT FARM PLEASE IKE

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Talk about a man being pleased—you should have seen President Eisenhower admire his new flag pole with the Stars and Stripes flying from it.

The pole, about 30 feet high, is on the spacious front lawn of the President's new country home here. The deep blue presidential flag flutters just below the national emblem.

The pole is the gift of the Suffolk County Republican Club of New York State, and it had been put in place shortly before Eisenhower arrived from Washington yesterday to spend the weekend and to help celebrate the 77th birthday of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver.

Talked To Newsmen

With a family group gathered around them, the chief executive and Mrs. Eisenhower stood on the glass enclosed patio of their home while he talked to newsmen.

"I can't tell you how pleased I am about those flags," Eisenhower remarked.

He added it wasn't a very good day for them to be flying because of the steady rain. But he pointed to a gilded metal eagle atop the pole and said:

"I'll have you know that eagle serves as weather vane and shows the direction of the wind."

Mrs. Eisenhower appeared to be completely recovered from the illness which had caused cancellation of all her engagements the last two weeks. The illness, described by the White House as the aftermath of a respiratory infection, started last March and became a political issue.

On the patio yesterday, the First Lady was all smiles. She looked radiant and well rested.

The First Lady and her mother arrived at the Eisenhower farm Wednesday from Washington. The President drove here yesterday afternoon.

On Thursday Mrs. Eisenhower created some excitement in downtown Gettysburg by showing up at a grocery store to do her own shopping. She also visited a five and ten cent store.

The President plans to return to Washington tomorrow evening.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. George M. Leader said Friday he has "complete confidence" in the ability of the state Athletic Commission to handle the Harold Johnson-Julie Mederos fight issue — revolving around a physician's finding that Johnson was drugged before the fight in Philadelphia last week.

The governor said he has no idea of abolishing the commission and returning control of boxing to local authorities. Instead, he said the trend is in the other direction—toward possible federal control.

Today's Talk

PLEASE DON'T WORRY!

From earliest history, when there weren't any too many people to present problems, worry was there just the same! People have always worried, and probably will, but it is the most useless habit that has ever been created.
What did Alexander worry about, or Napoleon, or George Washington?
Well, there is no account given in all that has been written about them — and so many famous ones.

You see, worry is something that can be smothered out of your life, and you are then happier, more efficient in your work and healthier in body. I once suggested that if you have to worry you set a time during the week to do so, so as not to clutter up the week and thus give you your full facilities for work and recreation.
For example, say that you will arrange to have as your worry hour each Friday at 6:30 p.m. and having taken notes during the week of things to worry about, submit them all at this hour and learn how wasteful and silly, as well as destructive, ALL worry is!

So many people say that they try so hard not to worry. To such I would say: "Don't try." Just don't worry. No one ever gains anything through worry. Courage, faith and an over-all belief in the goodness of God are sure to drive worry from your mind. We have all too many examples of the destructive power to worry. By eliminating it we immediately gain strength and confidence in ourselves and in other people.

Please don't worry. Rise above it! People who refuse to worry have so much more whole time in which to do the things they have resolved to do. Worry always creates a drag. It messes up the mind and so often kills the spirit of a person. Can you name any worry during the past year that was a great success? Think this over! Leave your worry business to some one who wants it!

BAND NOISE
We were grateful to the neighbors for the patience they displayed when the band boys met to practice, for a dreadful noise they made.
They'd a heavy-footed drummer.
You could hear him blocks
away;
And a saxophone youngster on the key who couldn't stay.
Though no critic would approve it in those by-gone happy days,
For it may have been distressing,
it was music to my ears.

In the living room they gathered,
sitting proudly in a row,
And the drummer started drumming and the trumpet to blow.
Every foot the floor was tapping.
It was crash and beat and blare
And I know the neighbors often wished we'd move away from there.
And I whispered to the mother when she sadly said: "Oh, dear!"
"They may be a little noisy, but I like to have them here."

"I know no better reason for a home,
from day to day,
Than making it a safe and pleasant place for boys to play.
If the youngsters found no welcome
when on ours they come to call,
In the things we seem so proud of there would be no sense at all.
Though that noise the lads are making may not soothe music be,
Just so long as here it happens, it is quite all right with me."

U.S. LOOKS FOR LIMITED ARMS PACT WITH REDS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials believe a limited disarmament agreement may eventually be negotiated with Russia even though world wide atomic controls seem a long way off.

Publication of proposals made by the Soviet Union and the Western Powers at a U.N. Disarmament Committee meeting in London showed today that the two sides are still far apart on the key issue of enforcements.

Informants said that even if agreement was reached on all other points, the issue of safeguards to prevent an aggressive nation from secretly preparing an atomic war is so vital there could be no overall agreement unless it also was resolved.

However, American officials and some European leaders are known to believe that it may be possible to work out plans with the Soviets to stabilize or perhaps cut back the size of forces deployed in the European area. In this limited approach, the issue of disarmament clad prove possible, informants say, it would have the effect of easing fears of war in Europe and reducing East-West tension.

Release Disarmament Proposals

The State Department released late yesterday the text of disarmament proposals which have been made by the Western Powers at the London meeting since February. Throughout the Western plans runs a strong insistence on the idea that the first step in any disarmament, underlining which was the creation of a "control organ."

The functions of the proposed agency were spelled out in a proposal presented by the United States, Britain, France, and Canada April 21. They declared that agents of the control organ would be "stationed permanently" in the cooperating countries, with the right of "unrestricted access" to all installations which might bear on that country's military power and the right to conduct "field and aerial surveys." The agents also would be assured unrestricted communication and guaranteed that they would not be harmed or interfered with.

Western Plans Follow Disclosure of the Western plans followed by three days Russia's publication of its latest proposal to the U.N. Committee in London.
This showed strong Russian opposition to any control organ with the powers demanded by the Western nations.

"In the existing situation," the Russia note said, "when many states (have) displayed legitimate concern for their security, it is difficult to expect that these states would trustfully give other states access to their industrial and other resources which are of vital importance for their security."

Instead, the Soviets suggested the control agency exercise its watch dog functions at key ports, railroad and road junctions and the like.

U.S. officials, however, say that a somewhat similar plan adopted in Communist North Korea for the enforcement of armistice terms has proved a failure.

One estimate is that there are 44½ million residential bathrooms in the United States, one third of which are more than 40 years old.

"THE GREAT COMPOSER"

I heard the breezes gently sing
... a song composed by God
... such melody could never come ... from those who with me trod ... for it was cloaked in fantasy ... and held my deepest heart ... enchanting me with every note ... a priceless work of art ... the air was filled with ecstasy ... and beauty past compare ...
I could not see the Great Composer ... still somehow He was there ... birds blended in their harmony ... with gold and silver tone ... the sky, the forest and myself ... still I was not alone ... there was a hallowed tenderness ... about the emerald wood ... unproven yet by reason ... but strangely understood ... and as I went upon my way ... still pondering, I could hear ... the rustling leaves that seemed to say
... the Great Composer's near.

POLICE STATE CAR PARTS HEIR DIED IN FALL

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Police say that Thomas W. Warner Jr., 40-year-old heir to an auto parts fortune, died as the result of an accidental fall.

But his fourth wife, estranged but not divorced, said through her attorney she wants an inquest to determine whether Warner met death through foul play.

Her lawyer said she is hiring private detectives to check Warner's activities and companions in the hours preceding his death early yesterday.

Warner, whose father developed the Borg Warner Co., was found dead—his neck broken—at the foot of a 12-foot embankment on his mother's Pasadena estate.

Police said he apparently plunged through a gap in a hedge along the estate's driveway at the top of the bank.

Marjette Mordue, 36, of South
Pasadena, said she let Warner out of her car about 2 a.m. yesterday.
She said he had been drinking and that he stumbled once into the hedge—but then got up.

"He seemed all right," she told detectives. "I told him to go in the house and go to bed. Then I went away."

Mrs. Anita Lipton Warner, fourth wife of the heir, had just returned from a Bahamas vacation. She has been receiving $600 monthly separate maintenance. Her attorney, S. S. Hahn, said that Warner's estate may exceed two million dollars.

Warner's other marriages were to Virginia Warner, Mrs. Jean MacDonald, and actress Anne Sterling. He and the fourth Mrs.
Warner separated in 1950.

WOLFSON, TWO AIDES READY FOR MEETING

CHICAGO (AP)—Louis Wolfson and two of his associates in the battle for control of Montgomery Ward & Co.—one of them a woman—stood by today for their first meeting as members of the firm's board of directors.

Composition of the new board of the big mail order and retail merchandising firm was to be announced at a reconvened session of the annual shareholders meeting.

Figures disclosed yesterday by the election inspectors on the number of votes cast at the April 22 stockholders meeting supported Wolfson's claim that he had won three of the nine seats on the board.

Maybe Only Two
At least one management source still clung to the possibility Wolfson had won only two seats, but the announced figures appeared to preclude this. The spokesman, who asked that his name not be used, said:

"We know we have six directors, but we can't say definitely if we have six or seven until the recounting is completed."

The recalculation, allotment of nine votes per share among nominees so as to elect the greatest number of candidates, was to be completed today.

Wolfson's three choices for the board are himself, Alexander Rit-master III, a New York financial consultant, and Bernice Fitz-Gibbon, also of New York, an advertising and promotion consultant.

Replaces Krider

Wolfson's group would take the places of three on the original Ward management slate. One of these is Edmund A. Krider, Ward's 42-year-old president who has resigned and withdrawn his name as a candidate for director. Names of the others to be dropped were not announced.

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Some of the pitching arms may be getting weary and some of the joints creaky on the once mighty New York Yankees, but the spirit of Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio breathes on.

Mickey Mantle, the phlegmatic, boyish-looking Oklahoman who was marked prematurely for baseball greatness, rekindled memories of the Yankees' most prodigious hitting feats with three home runs yesterday (Friday) which dazed the Detroit Tigers 5-2.

Using borrowed bats and a "don't-kill-the-ball" technique suggested by Manager Casey Stengel, the 23-year-old switch-hitter struck two from the left side of the plate and the third from the right.

He became the first American League player to hit home runs from alternate sides and the third player in major league history to accomplish the unique act. Jim Russell of Brooklyn did it in 1950 and Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1951.

Mantle's one-man wrecking job dulled all other developments of a major league program chopped in half by four postponements because of widespread rain and unseasonable cold.

The quick-starting Brooklyn Dodgers forestalled any panic and snapped a two-game losing streak by whacking Milwaukee 6-2 on home runs by Junior Gilliam and Roy Campanella. Another well-known center fielder, Willie Mays, put a shot out of the park in the 10th inning to give the New York Giants a 4-3 triumph over St. Louis.

The Boston Red Sox won a weird, rain-plagued game from Kansas City 4-3 in which the winning run was walked home in the ninth. Kansas City manager Lou Boudreau played the game under protest, contending play was resumed after an hour and 23 minute delay before rain had stopped. Inclement weather idled two National League parks—Philadelphia at Cincinnati and Pittsburgh at Chicago—and, showing no favorites, did the same to the American. The Cleveland at Washington and Chicago at Baltimore games were rained out.

"Golden Boy"

This permitted greater focusing on Mantle's slugging exhibition at Yankee Stadium.

But Yankee fans couldn't hide their glow. And the only questions reverberated again. Is this his year? Has Mickey finally come into his own? Is the Yankees' "Golden Boy" at last the nugget he was supposed to be?

He has had his great moments, such as the 565-foot home run in Washington in the spring of 1953, and his low ones, such as the four strikeouts in one game of the 1953 World Series after which he cried, "But he has not been able to deliver on a sustained scale."

He has been hobbled by a trick knee, injured in the second game of the 1951 World Series. Some say he hasn't reached maturity. Others say he lacks the fierce competitive drive of Cobb, DiMaggio and Williams.

Mantle's problem actually may have been nothing more than an urge to kill the ball every time. This, he feels, has been corrected under the guidance of Stengel and Coach Bill Dickey. "I think I'm getting the idea," Mickey says.

Mays' game-clinching home run for the Giants was his seventh of the season and saved a well-pitched game by John McCall, who replaced Don Liddle in the third and gave up only two hits through the last eight innings. Harvey Had-dix was the victim.

Gilliam and Campanella packaged their Brooklyn home runs in the fifth inning to spell defeat for Milwaukee's Bob Buhl. Billy Loes was the winner, giving up seven hits. One was a home run by catcher Del Crandall, who broke up Thursday night's game with a home run in the 12th.

The ninth inning at Boston, a city buoyed by the return of Ted Williams (although still not to action), was a nightmare for reliever Tom Gorman who couldn't get a man out in the ninth. Gorman walked Gene Stephens and Jim Piersall and threw wild to first on Grady Hatton's sacrifice, then walked Billy Goodman to force Stephens home with the winning run.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
BATTING—Mickey Mantle, Yankees, hit three home runs—two from the left and one from the right sides of the plate—and singled home another run to account for all New York scores in 5-2 victory over Detroit.

PITCHING—John (Windy) McCall, Giants, gave up only two hits in last eight innings of relief job to help beat St. Louis in 10 innings 4-2.

Adams County Meet Cancelled

Continuing rain throughout the night and the threat of inclement weather throughout the day resulted in cancellation of the annual Adams County public school track and field meet scheduled for today at Biglerville.

LAUSSE BEATS "TIGER" JONES FOR 28TH WIN

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Charley Johnston, who has two champions in featherweight king Sandy Saddler and light heavyweight ruler Archie Moore, hopes to make it three with Argentina's slugging middleweight, Eduardo Lausse.

The socking South American, nicknamed "KO" for his string of kayos, showed he had plenty of courage to go with his wallop when he blasted out a decisive and unanimous 10-round decision over durable Ralph (Tiger) Jones in Madison Square Garden last night.

That made it 28 straight for the rangy invader. He hasn't been beaten since Kid Gavilan outpointed him in Buenos Aires 32 months ago.

The victory was a costly one for the slashing gaucho. He was cut in two places over each eye and wound up with 30 fancy stitches. Dr. Vincent Nardello said the gashes should sideline the happy, hemstitched fighter for about two months.

Lausse and the plugging, solid-chinned Jones really wowed the 2,819 fans (gross gate $7,436) in the Garden and the television fans with their non-stop, virtually clinchless slugfest. Jones, a stocky aggressive Yorker, N. Y., Negro kept wading in and Lausse kept popping him.

All three officials—Referee Harry Kessler, and Judges Artie Alda and Jack Gordon—voted for Lausse by 6-1 scores. The AP scorecard had Lausse in front, 7-3.

Jones' manager, Bobby Melnick, followed custom and gave out the usual "we wuz robbed."

Each weighed 157½.

GIVE JOHNSON LIE DETECTOR TEST IN PROBE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Boxer Harold Johnson has been given a lie detector test as Philadelphia police continued their investigation into the nationally televised fight here May 6 in which the Philadelphia light heavyweight was drugged.

Results of the test yesterday were not disclosed. Matchmaker Pete Moran and Harold Davidson Johnson's trainer, also submitted to tests.

Boxing was suspended in Pennsylvania for 90 days after it was officially determined Johnson had been drugged by a barbiturate. He was unable to answer the bell for the third round of the fight against heavyweight Julio Mederos of Cuba.

Hearings Monday

The state Athletic Commission will begin hearings on the case Monday. The hearings originally scheduled for yesterday were postponed when boxing commissioner Alfred M. Klein said a little more time was needed to develop "informative leads."

In Harrisburg, Gov. George M. Leader said yesterday he had "complete confidence" in the Athletic Commission's ability to get to the bottom of the drugging incident.

Asked whether he thought arrests, prosecutions and convictions would result from the commission's investigation, Leader said he did not want to prejudge the case in view of the fact that the commission had not yet made its findings.

Rocky Marciano And Cockell Wind Up Long Training Grind With Light Workouts Today

By BOB MYERS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The long training grind ends, perhaps very happily, today for heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and Don Cockell, of England.

A couple of rounds for the unbeaten champ from America, three frames of light sparring for the English strong boy and thus will wind up weeks of hard work, all in preparation for their 15-round international struggle in Kezar Stadium Monday night.

The 30-year-old blockbuster from Brockton, Mass., is a hardened 188 pounds or so for the fifth defense of the title he won from Jersey Joe Walcott by a 13-round knockout in Philadelphia Sept. 23, 1952. Cockell, the British Empire champion, weighs around 208, and while he is big in arm, leg and round about the middle, he can never be called flabby.

That is just about the poundage they'll carry into the ring.

Rocky's manager, Al Weill, said his champ needs a final, if brief tune-up with the gloves at his Calistoga camp 76 miles north of here.

"Mainly to keep sharp," said Weill, who might also add that he is not opposed to the thought that 1,500 or 2,000 admirers will stream into the place, paying $1 apiece for the privilege of watching the rock perform.

No such turnouts greet the challenger at his place in suburban San Rafael. Every little bit helps, however, meaning the $1 admissions plus the fact that Cockell, even at this late date, can stand more sharpening punching practice.

Marciano remains a heavy betting favorite, with little action reported in this respect. And among the visiting corps of press, it is almost impossible to locate a person who is picking the Englishman to win. Included are the British writers who have followed Don's rather long and somewhat puzzling career.

"Whitey" Lammert, Former Bullet Grid Great, To Be Feted By Wenonah Alumni

Major Lloyd L. "Whitey" Lammert, who graduated from Gettysburg College in 1906 after starring as quarterback on the football team for four years, and later was headmaster at Wenonah Military Academy in New Jersey which closed its doors in 1935, will be feted by a group of alumni of the academy at a three-day party at Atlantic City, starting May 20.

Lammert, a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was the subject of an article by Ed Pollock which appeared in his column "Playing the Game" this week in the Philadelphia Bulletin.

It has often been said that the influence of a coach on a student athlete extends far beyond the years of their close association.

And here is supporting evidence: A group of alumni, including many who were schoolboy athletes before the depression at a school that hasn't existed for 20 years will toss a testimonial birthday dinner next week for their old coach.

The boys are coming in from various parts of the country and from as far off as Oklahoma to pay tribute to "The Bull" on a three-day party at the Claridge in Atlantic City, beginning May 20.

"The Bull" is Major Lloyd L. Lammert, former head master and coach at the Wenonah Military Academy which became a victim of the depression and closed its doors in 1935.

Many Gained Fame
Many of his boys at Wenonah gained fame as collegians and professionals. Among them was Herb Pennock, who went directly from the halls of Wenonah to the dugout at what was then Sibe Park on his way to become one of the greatest pitchers in baseball.

Here are a few of the others: Dr. George K. Brazil, who played with the White Sox; Or DoGrossa, Colgate star and former boxing commissioner; Swarthmore's Frank Fitts; Bill Graupner and Paul Cresci, of Penn; Dartmouth's Jimmy Fickens, a four-sports star; Bucknell's Dutch Reichelderfer, and Temple's Nick Caterina.

Gen. Nichols To Attend
Two more of his brilliant were Frank S. Farley, U. S. Senator from New Jersey, and Brigadier-General William Preston Nichols, commanding officer of the Tinker Air Base near Oklahoma City. Both were three-sport performers at Wenonah.

General Nichols, who is flying in for the party where he will be the principal speaker at the dinner on May 21, was the press liaison officer at the Korean peace conference.

Major Lammert, a smallish man with a forceful personality and a resonant voice, has a long background as athlete and coach.

For four years he was the star quarterback at Gettysburg College. He began his coaching career in 1907, the fall after his graduation, at a school in Dover, Del. Two years later he was appointed football and basketball coach at Dickinson. In 1910 he went to Wenonah as science teacher and coach of all sports. He became head master in 1917 and continued to coach for another dozen years. In three years his teams were undefeated in baseball, basketball and football.

The depression took a heavy toll at Wenonah. Enrollment in a few years dropped from 125 to fewer than 60 and the school was forced to close. Subsequently, the major became principal of the Woodbury, N. J. High School. He retired eight years ago.

In 1903, Lammert matriculated at Gettysburg and, although he washed out in 1904, he returned to play varsity football. Because of his size,

PICK PLAYERS FOR LOOPS IN LITTLESTOWN

Littlestown lads aspiring to be baseball players will have their chance again this year by participating in the Little League or the Minor League.

At the player auction held Thursday night at Banker's, new boys selected for the various teams follow:

Eagles, formerly known as the Cardinals, Raymond Harney, Jay Sentz, Richard Selwell, Terry Morelock and Robert Horner; Lions, Edward Hunter, Billy Woodward, Allen Kuhn, Ronald Bedford, Billy Blocher and Donald Selby; Giants, Dester Freeman, Steve Basehoar, Lloyd Bortner and James Bowersox; Vets, Jeffrey Rebert and Gregory Myers. This group will join the members of the team who played last year.

There will be four games a week, on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 5 p.m. on the Little League field at the Littlestown playground. The first game will be played on May 31.

Minor League Roster

Fifty new boys reported for tryouts this year, a record number in the community, and due to the interest, it has been felt necessary to establish a Minor League.

Boys in the Minor League, whose names follow, will be notified by newspaper announcement of the teams on which they will play and where and when to report for practice: Carl Ritter, James Blocher, John Burgoon, Charles Wagman, Carl Brown, Michael Gladhill, Terry Reynolds, Eddie Ruggles, Larry Conover, Michael Sneeringer, Robert Hahn, Timmy Stites, Richard Matland, Billy Basehoar, Thomas Hartsock, James Long, Earl Strausbaugh, Robert Forry, Timothy Rineaman, Robert Hershey, Ronald Smith, James Ketterman, Thomas Staveley, Charles Hahn, Bailey Barnhart, Barry Rhoades, Tommy Shildt, Keith Waltman, David Slusser, James Weaver, Joe Boyd, Ronald Ruggles, Thomas Growg, Charles Crouse, Ronald Gladhill and Larry Alloff.

Other boys interested in playing Little League baseball are asked to give their names as soon as possible to Earl L. Stites, Richard A. Matland, Ralph R. Ruggles Jr., or William T. Growg Jr., who are helping with the Minor League.

Managers of the teams are: Eagles, G. Richard Knipfle, Robert C. Koonz and Bernard M. Selby; Vets, Donald C. Feeser and Robert Myers; Lions, Karl P. Bankert, Merle Welkert and Karl Bankert Jr.; Giants, Edward H. Leister, B. M. Jones and Beaven F. Hanlon.

At the half, Gettysburg led Penn, 2-0, on a safety, and increased the edge to 6-0 on a field goal by Seiber soon after the intermission. The Quakers eventually tied the score, but they were back close to their own goal late in the game when a forward pass, Seiber to Lammert, put the ball inside the ten-yard line.

That was one of the greatest teams in Gettysburg College history. In addition to tying Penn, the boys from the battlefield also tied Penn State and lost only to star-studded Swarthmore. Penn was likewise a Swarthmore victim in 1906.

Word got out not long ago that the major will be 70 years old come next May 21. Maybe that's what prompted the testimonial suggestion.

A small group including Carl L. Stern, Amador Mori, Joseph DiLemo, Thomas W. Rauffenbart, Jack Norris and Richard Beebe have been spreading the news as far as an old mailing list permits. Many haven't yet been reached because of incorrect addresses. A word to Secretary Rauffenbart, 413 Schwehm Bldg., Atlantic City, will assure them of chairs at the banquet.

Proudest of all will be the guest of honor. It will be quite a weekend for the old coach to be with his boys again—the boys who haven't forgotten him after more than a score of years.

Additional first places for the Cannons were won by the following: Dave Slaybaugh, 880; Don Himes, discus; Ronnie Koonz, 440; Larry Finckoff, high jump; Dick Byers, broad jump; Ed McGlaughlin, pole vault; Larry Shilito, javelin, and the mile and half mile relay teams.

Next Wednesday the Cannons will engage in another triangular meet when they meet Northern Joint and Dillsburg at Dillsburg.

The summaries:
100-yard dash—Won by Roe, Biglerville; second, May, Biglerville; third, Landis, Central; fourth, Shaull, Central. Winning time—1:10.

Williams would not hazard a guess as to how soon he'd be ready.

Canners Remain Unbeaten By Edging Delone 5-4 Via Three-Run Final Inning

The Biglerville Cannons tallied three runs in the final inning to capture a thrilling 5-4 decision over Delone Catholic in a game played in a steady rain on the victor's diamond Friday afternoon. Delone has lost five and is still looking for its first win.

After the Squires were able to break a 2-2 deadlock and go ahead 4-2 going into the bottom of the seventh frame, Biglerville scored three runs to keep a clean slate. Frank Cline led off the inning with a walk. Gochenauer filed to center, but Pitzer followed with a clean single to put runners at first and third. Gene Shaeffer lashed out and other safety to center to bring in Cline. Johnny Constable, who pitched a fine game, won his own game as he banged out a double to left-center to score Pitzer with the tying run and Shaeffer with the winning run.

Biglerville, who had beaten the Squires in their first outing, got off to a quick start by crossing the plate once in the second frame, after both teams had gone scoreless in the first. Gene Shaeffer doubled to start the attack. With one out Hartzell gained first on an outfield error that allowed Shaeffer to score.

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Some of the pitching arms may be getting weary and some of the joints creaky on the once mighty New York Yankees, but the spirit of Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio breathes on.

Mickey Mantle, the phlegmatic, boyish-looking Oklahoman who was marked prematurely for baseball greatness, rekindled memories of the Yankees' most prodigious hitting feats with three home runs yesterday (Friday) which dazed the Detroit Tigers 5-2.

Using borrowed bats and a "don't-kill-the-ball" technique suggested by Manager Casey Stengel, the 23-year-old switch-hitter struck two from the left side of the plate and the third from the right.

He became the first American League player to hit home runs from alternate sides and the third player in major league history to accomplish the unique act. Jim Russell of Brooklyn did it in 1950 and Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1951.

Mantle's one-man wrecking job dulled all other developments of a major league program chopped in half by four postponements because of widespread rain and unseasonable cold.

The quick-starting Brooklyn Dodgers forestalled any panic and snapped a two-game losing streak by whacking Milwaukee 6-2 on home runs by Junior Gilliam and Roy Campanella. Another well-known center fielder, Willie Mays, put a shot out of the park in the 10th inning to give the New York Giants a 4-3 triumph over St. Louis.

The Boston Red Sox won a weird, rain-plagued game from Kansas City 4-3 in which the winning run was walked home in the ninth. Kansas City manager Lou Boudreau played the game under protest, contending play was resumed after an hour and 23 minutes delay before rain had stopped. Inclement weather idled two National League parks—Philadelphia at Cincinnati and Pittsburgh at Chicago—and, showing no favorites, did the same to the American. The Cleveland at Washington and Chicago at Baltimore games were rained out.

"Golden Boy"
This permitted greater focusing on Mantle's slugging exhibition at Yankee Stadium.

But Yankee fans couldn't hide their glow. And the only questions reverberated again. Is this his year? Has Mickey finally come into his own? Is the Yankee "Golden Boy" at last the nugget he was supposed to be?

He has had his great moments, such as the 565-foot home run in Washington in the spring of 1953, and his low ones, such as the four strikeouts in one game of the 1953 World Series after which he cried, "But he has not been able to deliver on a sustained scale."

He has been hobbled by a trick knee, injured in the second game of the 1951 World Series. Some say he hasn't reached maturity. Others say he lacks the fierce competitive drive of Cobb, DiMaggio and Williams.

Mantle's problems actually may have been nothing more than an urge to kill the ball every time. This, he feels, has been corrected under the guidance of Stengel and Coach Bill Dickey. "I think I'm getting the idea," Mickey says.

Mays' game-clinching home run for the Giants was his seventh of the season and saved a well-pitched game by John McCall, who replaced Don Liddle in the third and gave up only two hits through the last eight innings. Harvey Haddix was the victim.

Gilliam and Campanella packaged their Brooklyn home runs in the fifth inning to spell defeat for Milwaukee's Bob Buhl. Billy Loeb was the winner, giving up seven hits. One was a home run by catcher Del Crandall, who broke up Thursday night's game with a home run in the 12th.

The ninth inning at Boston, a city buoyed by the return of Ted Williams (although still not to action), was a nightmare for reliever Tom Gorman who couldn't get a man out in the ninth. Gorman walked Gene Stephens and Jim Piersall and threw wild to first on Grady Hatton's sacrifice, then walked Billy Goodman to force Stephens home with the winning run.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
BATTING — Mickey Mantle, Yankees, hit three home runs—two from the left and one from the right sides of the plate—and singled home another run to account for all New York scores in 5-2 victory over Detroit.

PITCHING — John (Windy) McCall, Giants, gave up only two hits in last eight innings of relief job to help beat St. Louis in 10 innings 4-3.

Adams County Meet Cancelled

Continuing rain throughout the night and the threat of inclement weather throughout the day resulted in cancellation of the annual Adams County public school track and field meet scheduled for today at Biglerville.

LAUSSE BEATS "TIGER" JONES FOR 28TH WIN

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Charley Johnston, who has two champions in featherweight king Sandy Saddler and light heavyweight ruler Archie Moore, hopes to make it three with Argentina's slugging middleweight, Eduardo Lausse.

The soaking South American, nicknamed "KO" for his string of kayos, showed he had plenty of courage to go with his wallop when he blasted out a decisive and unanimous 10-round decision over durable Ralph (Tiger) Jones in Madison Square Garden last night.

That made it 23 straight for the rangy invader. He hasn't been beaten since Kid Gavilan outpointed him in Buenos Aires 32 months ago.

The victory was a costly one for the slashing gaucha. He was cut in two places over each eye and wound up with 30 fancy stitches. Dr. Vincent Nardiello said the gashes should sideline the happy, hemstitched fighter for about two months.

Wants Title Shot
"We'll have to wait for a while for Olson (middleweight champion Bobo Olson) because he's fighting Moore here on June 22," said Johnston. "But after Archie takes care of him and Eddie's cuts are healed I'm going to holler for a middleweight title shot. My guy proved he's a great crowd pleaser in beating Jones and who else can Olson fight with a better record?"

Lausse and the plugging, solid-chinned Jones really wowed the 2,819 fans (gross gate $7,436) in the Garden and the television fans with their non-stop, virtually clinchless slugfest. Jones, a stocky aggressive Yorker, N. Y., Negro kept wading in and Lausse kept popping him.

All three officials—Referee Harry Kessler, and Judges Art Alcala and Jack Gordon—voted for Lausse by 6-1 scores. The AP scorecard had Lausse in front, 7-3.

Jones' manager, Bobby Melnick, followed custom and gave out with the usual "we wuz robbed."

Each weighed 167½.

GIVE JOHNSON LIE DETECTOR TEST IN PROBE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Boxer Harold Johnson has been given a lie detector test as Philadelphia police continued their investigation into the nationally televised fight here May 6 in which the Philadelphia light heavyweight was drugged.

Results of the test yesterday were not disclosed. Matchmaker Pete Moran and Harold Davidson Johnson's trainer, also submitted to tests.

Boxing was suspended in Pennsylvania for 90 days after it was officially determined Johnson had been drugged by a barbiturate. He was unable to answer the bell for the third round of the fight, against heavyweight Julio Mederos of Cuba.

Hearings Monday

The state Athletic Commission will begin hearings on the case Monday. The hearings originally scheduled for yesterday were postponed when boxing commissioner Alfred M. Klein said a little more time was needed to develop "informative leads."

In Harrisburg, Gov. George M. Leader said yesterday he had "complete confidence" in the Athletic Commission's ability to get to the bottom of the drugging incident.

Asked whether he thought arrests, prosecutions and convictions would result from the commission's investigation, Leader said he did not want to prejudice the case in view of the fact that the commission had not yet made its findings.

TED WILLIAMS SIGNS SOX PACT

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams has settled down to conditioning after signing a Boston Red Sox contract for the rest of the season, but he's not certain how much longer he will play.

The big left-handed slugger with a 348 lifetime batting average put his signature on a contract worth an estimated $75,000 for the balance of the year on a prorata basis yesterday.

It's up to Ted now how long before he can get into shape for pinch-hitting and returning to a spot in the Sox lineup, according to Gen. Mgr. Joe Cronin and field boss Mike Higgins.

Feels Good But Tired
When asked how long he would remain in baseball in his fifth comeback (Marines 1946, elbow injury 1950, Marines 1953 and broken collarbone last year) Ted answered:

"I honestly don't know. Perhaps I should say that I'll play as long as I think I can do it. I'll quit as soon as I feel I can't do things right—can't help the team."

"I feel pretty good, but very tired," he said after spraying hits in and out of the playing field.

"I'm awfully happy to be in the surroundings of baseball again," Williams told the press. "Regardless of what has been written and said I'm back in the game I love the best."

Williams would not hazard a guess as to how soon he'd be ready.

Canners Remain Unbeaten By Edging Delone 5-4 Via Three-Run Final Inning

The Biglerville Cannery tallied three runs in the final inning to capture a thrilling 5-4 decision over Delone Catholic in a game played in a steady rain on the victor's diamond Friday afternoon. Delone has lost five and is still looking for its first win.

After the Squires were able to break a 2-2 deadlock and go ahead 4-2 going into the bottom of the seventh frame, Biglerville scored three runs to keep a clean slate. Frank Cline led off the inning with a walk. Gochenaur flied to center, but Pitzer followed with a clean single to put runners at first and third. Gene Shaeffer lashed out another safety to center to bring in Cline. Johnny Constable, who pitched a fine game, won his own game as he banged out a double to left-center to score Pitzer with the tying run and Shaeffer with the winning run.

Biglerville, who had beaten the Squires in their first outing, got off to a quick start by crossing the plate once in the second frame, after both teams had gone scoreless in the first. Gene Shaeffer doubled to start the attack. With one out Hartzell gained first on an outfield error that allowed Shaeffer to score.

Squires Take Lead

Delone came to life in the fourth as they tallied a pair of runs to pull out in front 2-1. With one out, Lee Little singled to right, stole second and scored when Joe Poist took first on an infield miscue. A ground-out sent Poist all the way to third and he was able to come in for the second run when Burnell Bevenour got on via infield miscue.

Ahe Cannery knotted the count in the fifth. With two out, Cline singled, and then came all the way home when Maynard Gochenaur reached second on a single and an infield error.

The Squires sent runners home in the sixth and seventh to push ahead for the last time. In the sixth Poist rapped a single to right center, went to second on a steal and scored on Burnell Bevenour's sharp safety to center. Coach Bonelli's lads added one more in the seventh before Biglerville came up with their thrilling finish. Buddy Redding walked to lead off the inning. Redding took both second and third on beautiful hook slides and came romping home when Billman grounded out.

Maynard Gochenaur, G. ne Shaeffer and Johnny Constable led the Cannery hitting attack by collecting a pair of hits each, with Shaeffer and Constable blasting doubles. Delone was able to secure only three hits, singles by Little, Poist and Burnell Bevenour.

Constable turned in a fine three-hit performance, as he struck out seven to rack up his third win. Burnell Bevenour went the distance for Delone striking out six.

Title Game Tuesday

Biglerville will be host to Boiling Springs ment Tuesday afternoon in a game which will decide the regular season champion of the Adams County League. The Cannery and Bubbles are tied for first place with 6-0 records.

Delone will entertain Hanover on Monday.

SARATOGA IS FAVORED
CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Saratoga, top weighted at 118 pounds, was the favorite among an even dozen 3-year-olds in today's $50,000 added nine furlong, Jersey Stakes at Garden State Park.

Sammy Bouimetis, who has won both stakes at the current meeting, will be aboard another hopeful, Mrs. Jan Burke's Dedicate, and a third contender probably will be George D. Widener's Mandil, with Willie Hartack, a four-time winner yesterday, handling the reins.

Comets have been called "the nearest thing to nothing that anything can be and still be something," says the National Geographic Society.

County Commissioners Keep Their Promise And Cut Tax Rate 2 Mills; Budgets Ready

The Adams County commissioners kept their promise to the taxpayers of the county today by dropping two mills off the tax rate for 1955. The total tax levied by the county will be 10 mills.

The reduction reflects the increase in the assessment of properties brought about by the new equalized assessment which went into effect this year. It is the second straight year in which county taxes have been reduced.

In 1953 the tax totalled 12½ mills, with ½ mill going for bonds. In 1954 the amount was reduced to 12 mills when the county had obtained enough to pay off its bonds. This year the amount of tax was dropped to 10 mills.

Sees Minor Mishaps As Blessing In Disguise For Driver; Reminds Him Of Potential Traffic Dangers

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

Ben Franklin never owned a car but he knew that the way to be safe is never to feel too secure.

Minors Save Majors

While it is always discouraging to knock off a door in angle parking or break the car's grille in failing to make a quick stop in a traffic halt many experienced observers of the driving scene believe that such minor situations are most effective in curbing major collisions and accidents. Anything that serves to give the driver a better idea of the potential danger which misdirection of his car encourages will help him in giving the job more thought and skill.

When the car goes along so easily the driver is likely to lose all sense of what a concentrated mass of power he is directing. He does not realize what would happen if he were to drive just a little closer to a passing car or what would be the consequences of failing to stop his car when the line ahead suddenly comes to an unexpected halt. So the occasional brush with another vehicle should never be considered as reason for remorse, even though it may mean a trip to the body repair shop, inconvenience and expense. After any incident that proves to a driver he had better be more careful he is certain to turn over a new leaf.

It Makes A Difference

Whether you have one of those vacuum gauges which operate while the car is being used, or simply let a mechanic use his gauge to make a spot check, you'll want to know that fast vibrations of the pointer at the normal vacuum readings and with the engine idling mean ignition trouble. This is likely to be confused with fluctuation of the pointer below the normal reading which indicates an air leak around the intake manifold or gasket, or perhaps around the carburetor gasket.

Explaining That Pull

When one brake drags it is always a good idea to suspect that some grease, oil or brake fluid has "cooked" on its lining. That's a matter of inspection. But if nothing on this order shows up you may find that there is a broken brake shoe return spring or that the pistons of the particular brake cylinder are stuck. Remember that with power steering it is especially important that the front brakes be kept in prime condition, for if there is a pull one way or the other during braking you are likely to over-steer in trying to make a correction at the wheel.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Some of those old instruction books may seem corny on first glance but looking through one the other day I was impressed by a suggestion for daily checking of the car and wondering how many motorists these days bother with it. In addition to checking oil, water and gas the book advises noting carefully how the oil pressure registers when the motor has been started. That's a good point because it often is a tip-off to trouble. And a point that really looks sensible is checking lights. Think of how much trouble could be pre-

Traffic Plus And Minus

The new rule is to figure it will take you longer to get anywhere locally than it ever did before, but you will be able to reach distant points at an accelerated rate. It is just the difference between battling congestion, stop signs and traffic lights, and sailing along the super-highways. Some commuters often lose five minutes trying to get out of their own driveways. It isn't merely the greatly increased number of traffic lights that slows down the parade but the slower timing of lights to take care of the greatly increased cross traffic which must be accommodated. In spite of the general complaint about congestion many secondary routes and roads can be found where there is little traffic and still much of the old-time driving pleasure to be had. It pays to look for it.

The six main varieties of gears used in automobiles over the years have been: spur, worm, helical, herringbone, bevel and hypoid. A too high rear-end gearing may be wasteful because the driver is obliged to drop into lower gears more often.

It is never advisable to jump more than one step in the heat range when changing to hotter or cooler spark plugs.

New Register Tells All

Who owns America's antique automobiles.

The answer is found in the first edition of a combined "Register of Antique Automobiles" compiled and published by the Antique Automobile Club of America, Inc. It compiles joint listings of this organization, the Veteran Motor Car Club and museums. My good friend, Jerry Duryea, one of the register committee members, has good reason to be proud of this compilation because it serves a number of useful purposes, quite aside from the nostalgic angle. If you want to know who owns Detroit Electric, or where they can be seen in a museum, the facts are all there in this convenient register. I am particularly interested to note that a 1900 Motorette is still kicking around. There are two Northerns listed. One bearing this nameplate was the car in which I had my first experience as a motorist. If I were to go up in a jet plane today I am sure it would not be any more thrilling than that first ride behind an internal combustion engine.

Often when faced with the need of milling down the block or the cylinder head in order to correct for warpage, and thus check cylinder head gasket leakage, owners wonder if this won't increase compression just enough to cause plugging and possible re-warpage from overheating. To compensate for the stock milled from the head or block or both, they have merely to use a thicker gasket.

New Angle In Licensing

Few stop to realize it but the real pitch in the new system of licensing car operations as of their birthdays is the opportunity to

scan each driver's record and give him a re-examination if necessary. Where licenses are all renewed on a single date the motor vehicle offices are over-taxed and in no position to look into the behavior of those whose records are not especially good. While the new system is already preventing these maddening peak loads on the clerical force the main benefit will be to society in general. By encouraging this new opportunity to check drivers individually it is believed that many undesirables will be weeded out.

Q. What would cause the engine to idle so poorly? There also is occasional noise, and stalling. H. L. S.

A. This looks like a case of valve stickage. But also check for too low idling speed. That would be the main cause of stalling in this case.

Q. I have been told that when-ever driving in a heavy rain it is necessary to hold one foot lightly on the brake pedal so as to prevent water from affecting the brakes — especially the front brakes. I am a new driver. Is this necessary? W. K.

A. In most cases this isn't necessary although it is always well to use the brakes frequently in wet weather as they may be affected by dampness even if no water gets into the brake drums. If driving through a flooded area of roadway, however, keeping your foot lightly on the pedal will help protect the brakes.

Q. Oil pressure is too high, according to the gauge on the dash of my car, but the engine seems to be running all right. What should I do about it? E. F. McC.

A. I would check the oil pressure relief valve which may be badly clogged. Also check the gauge for accuracy. If there were a clogged oil line the engine would burn out a bearing.

Q. I notice that the engine of my car is sluggish when trying to increase speed rapidly. It will seem to take a moderate increase if I give it time to build up. There is no sudden lapse when pressing on the accelerator sharply, but just a sense of something trying to hold back the car. I thought at first that it might be some form of vapor lock but the engine isn't running hot enough for that. T. T. W.

A. I suspect that the fuel pump is weak. But check also for a too low carburetor float level.

Q. There is a peculiar noise in my new car. It seems to be in the rear of the car, but checking into the luggage compartment fails to reveal anything unusual. This noise develops whenever the car's body is stressed as when running over an uneven road where there is side-to-side motion. K. L. P.

A. In the luggage compartment the partition leading to the rear seat is loose. I would try some better way of securing this.

Q. Will you kindly explain what is meant by "unsprung weight?" N. N. J.

A. This is all of the car's anatomy which isn't supported by its spring suspension. Included are the wheel, tires, brakes, axles, wheel bearing etc. You might roughly say it is all of the car below the springs.

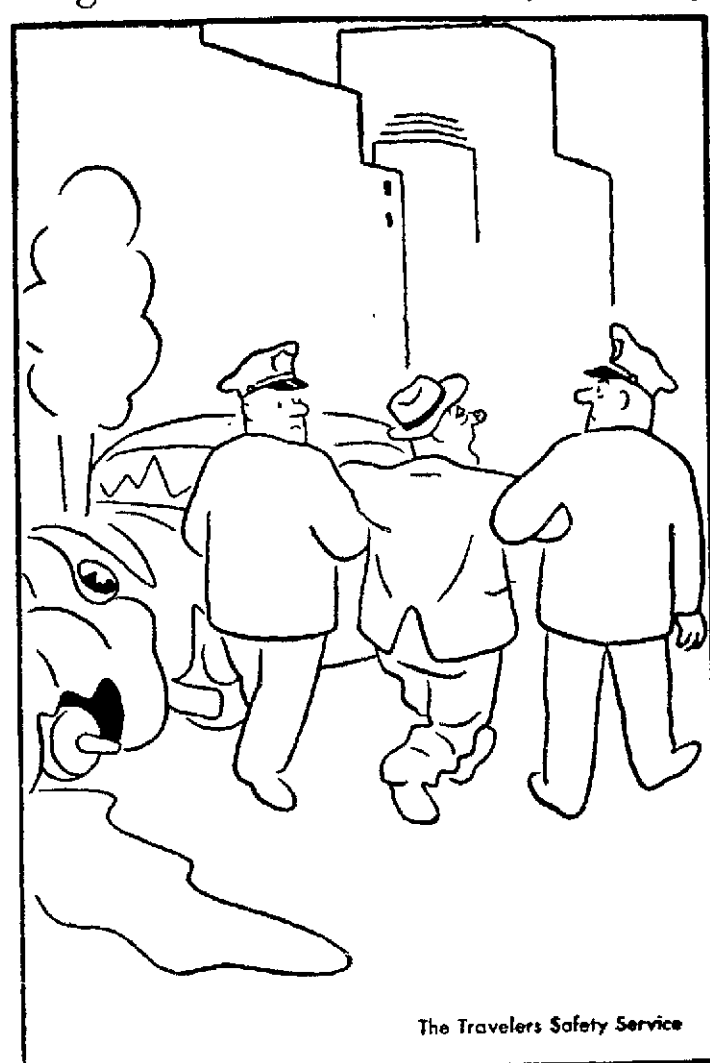

Q. What would cause two coils to burn out? F. S.

A. Check for a poor connection in the primary circuit.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

ASKS SLASH IN STATE BUDGET FOR SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader Friday rolled for legislative approval of a bill that would trim 16 million dollars from the state's budget by changing the system of paying school subsidies.

However, Leader said the reductions "as desirable as they are, cannot be considered savings."

"In the final analysis school costs are determined at the local school district level," Leader said in a statement to his weekly news conference.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Stephen McCann (D—Greene), would freeze the state's share of costs for new school construction at present levels.

Sees Dig Increases

Under present law the system of reimbursing school districts for new school construction, transportation and closed schools is based on the same formula used to determine the state's share of teachers' salaries.

However, Leader noted, that under this system—since teachers' salaries are automatically increasing under legislative mandates—the state's share of school construction costs would increase each year, while the actual cost of the structure remained constant.

The governor estimated that under the sliding scale formula now in effect the state's share of construction costs in the 1957-58 biennium would jump to 37 million dollars, and to 53½ million dollars in the 1959-61 biennium.

Truck Ceilings Should Be Uniform

HARRISBURG (AP)—Truck weight ceilings between Pennsylvania and other states should be equalized, Gov. George M. Leader said Friday.

Asked at his weekly news conference if he favored legislation sponsored by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. to boost weight limits of commonly used trucks from 45,000 pounds to 60,000 pounds, Leader replied:

"I think that people are pretty well agreed that there is some justification for equalization of truck weights between Pennsylvania and neighboring states. Basically, that will be my position."

Leader said he plans conferences with Joseph J. Lawler, secretary of highways, and state engineers to study individual provisions in the PMTA measure introduced in the House this week.

Gen. Ridgway Is Asking Retirement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, critical of administrative decisions to cut back the ground forces, has asked to be retired June 30 and will be succeeded as Army chief of staff by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

Ridgway's decision to leave on the day before the new military budget becomes effective was disclosed when President Eisenhower sent the Senate a nomination of Taylor Friday to succeed him.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Ridgway wrote a letter to Secretary of the Army Stevens asking for retirement on June 30. Ridgway's term had until Aug. 15 to run.

RULING BARS GIRL'S DIPLOMA

TITUSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A 20-year-old community school board ruling is keeping a young bride from her high school classes and threatening to prevent her graduation this June.

Nancy L'Hullier Sutton, 17, was married April 1 to Arman William H. Sutton when he was home on leave. She stayed out of school for a week, honeymooning.

Then, when her husband headed for France, Nancy's parents announced the marriage and she tried to return to school.

The board not only forbade her return to school, citing the 20 year ban on married pupils but it also refused her permission to take final graduation exams.

Nancy's father, Henry says he is now planning court action against the ban.

2 BRONX BOYS ARE ARRESTED

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Bronx youths were arrested Thursday on charges growing out of the street slaying of 15-year-old William Blankenship Jr.

Frank (Tarzan) Santana, 17, of the Bronx, has been indicted on a first-degree murder charge for allegedly firing the fatal shot.

Eleven other youths were held on other charges stemming from the slaying of Blankenship on a Bronx street. A feud between rival gangs over uniforms led to the shooting April 30.

Young Blankenship, a model student, was not a member of any gang.

Picked up on Thursday were Pedro Rodriguez, 17, of the Bronx, and a 15-year-old cousin of Santana, who was not identified. Rodriguez was charged with rioting and the younger boy with juvenile delinquency.

Police did not explain any connection between the new arrests and the slaying.

Reds Clamp Iron Fist Upon Millions In North Indochina

By LARRY ALLEN

HAIPHONG, North Indochina (AP)—The iron hand of communism clamped down on the lives of 13 million Vietnamese in North Indochina Friday.

Vietminh troops took over control of the seaport of Haiphong from the French — their last big territorial gain under the Geneva peace settlement — and a new code of existence immediately went into effect.

Sound trucks broadcast an order that all who had helped and supported the French and Vietnamese must report at once to the nearest police station.

The chill order, an abrupt change in an apparently lenient Vietminh attitude before the march into Haiphong, started hundreds of Vietnamese in hurried flight to the docks.

Other stern Vietminh orders followed quickly over blaring sound truck speakers.

Haiphong's people were instructed to stay in their homes until 8 p.m.

They were told when they could walk on which streets.

They were instructed to go to banks and change their Vietnamese piastres into Vietminh dong, at 40 dong for one piastre.

They were ordered to appear Saturday for the "victory parade" and instructed to cheer.

They were told of taxes they must pay.

They were told French colonialism was dead forever and that the people's great enemy now was "American imperialism."

Patients Wakened As Tank Takes Off

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Nearly all of Pennsylvania Hospital's 450 patients were awakened suddenly at dawn Friday by the roar of an oxygen tank that blew into the air from the hospital grounds outside the accident ward.

The 140-pound, six-foot-high metal cylinder zoomed rocket-like over a 10-foot wall, struck the pavement with sufficient force to crack the cement and rolled into the street.

The concussion from the tank's unexplained take-off shattered three glass windows.

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

Ben Franklin never owned a car but he knew that the way to be safe is never to feel too secure.

Minors Save Majors

While it is always discouraging to knock off a door in angle parking or break the car's grille in falling to make a quick stop in a traffic halt many experienced observers of the driving scene believe that such minor situations are most effective in curbing major collisions and accidents. Anything that serves to give the driver a better idea of the potential danger which misdirection of his car encourages will help him in giving the job more thought and skill.

When the car goes along so easily the driver is likely to lose all sense of what a concentrated mass of power he is directing. He does not realize what would happen if he were to drive just a little closer to a passing car or what would be the consequences of failing to stop his car when the line ahead suddenly comes to an unexpected halt. So the occasional brush with another vehicle should never be considered as reason for remorse, even though it may mean a trip to the body repair shop, inconvenience and expense. After any incident that proves to a driver he had better be more careful he is certain to turn over a new leaf.

It Makes A Difference

Whether you have one of those vacuum gauges which operate while the car is being used, or simply let a mechanic use his gauge to make a spot check, you'll want to know that fast vibrations of the pointer at the normal vacuum readings and with the engine idling mean ignition trouble. This is likely to be confused with fluctuation of the pointer below the normal reading which indicates an air leak around the intake manifold or gasket, or perhaps around the carburetor gasket.

Explaining That Pull

When one brake drags it is always a good idea to suspect that some grease, oil or brake fluid has "cooked" on its lining. That's a matter of inspection. But if nothing on this order shows up you may find that there is a broken brake shoe return spring or that the pistons of the particular brake cylinder are stuck. Remember that with power steering it is especially important that the front brakes be kept in prime condition, for if there is a pull one way or the other during braking you are likely to over-steer in trying to make a correction at the wheel.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Some of those old instruction books may seem corny on first glance but looking through one the other day I was impressed by a suggestion for daily checking of the car and wondered how many motorists these days bother with it. In addition to checking oil, water and gas the book advises turning carefully how the oil pressure registers when the motor has been started. That's a good point because it often is a tip-off to trouble. And a point that really looks sensible is checking lights. Think of how much trouble could be pre-

Traffic Plus And Minus

The new rule is to figure it will take you longer to get anywhere locally than it ever did before, but you will be able to reach distant points at an accelerated rate. It is just the difference between battling congestion, stop signs and traffic lights, and sailing along the super-highways. Some commuters often lose five minutes trying to get out of their own driveways. It isn't merely the greatly increased number of traffic lights that slows down the parade but the slower timing of lights to take care of the greatly increased cross traffic which must be accommodated. In spite of the general complaint about congestion many secondary routes and roads can be found where there is little traffic and still much of the old-time driving pleasure to be had. It pays to look for it.

The six main varieties of gears used in automobiles over the years have been: spur, worm, helical, herringbone, bevel and hypoid. A too high rear-end gearing may be wasteful because the driver is obliged to drop into lower gears more often.

It is never advisable to jump more than one step in the heat range when changing to hotter or cooler spark plugs.

New Register Tells All

Who owns America's antique automobiles.

The answer is found in the first edition of a combined "Register of Antique Automobiles" compiled and published by the Antique Automobile Club of America, Inc. It compiles joint listings of this organization, the Veteran Motor Car Club and museums. My good friend, Jerry Duryea, one of the register committee members, has good reason to be proud of this compilation because it serves a number of useful purposes, quite aside from the nostalgic angle. If you want to know who owns Detroit Electrics, or where they can be seen in a museum, the facts are all there in this convenient register. I am particularly interested to note that a 1900 Motorette is still kicking around. There are two Northerns listed. One bearing this nameplate was the car in which I had my first experience as a motorist. If I were to go up in a jet plane today I am sure it would not be any more thrilling than that first ride behind an internal combustion engine.

Often when faced with the need of milling down the block or the cylinder head in order to correct for warpage, and thus check cylinder head gasket leakage, owners wonder if this won't increase compression just enough to cause ping-pong and possible re-warping from overheating. To compensate for the stock milled from the head or block or both, they have merely to use a thicker gasket.

New Angle In Licensing

Few stop to realize it but the real pitch in the new system of licensing car operations as of their birthdays is the opportunity to

scan each driver's record and give him a re-examination if necessary. Where licenses are all renewed on a single date the motor vehicle offices are over-taxed and in no position to look into the behavior of those whose records are not especially good. While the newer system is already preventing these maddening peak loads on the clerical force the main benefit will be to society in general. By encouraging this new opportunity to check drivers individually it is believed that many undesirables will be weeded out.

Q. What would cause the engine to idle so poorly? There also is occasional noise, and stalling. H. L. S.

A. This looks like a case of valve stickage. But also check for too low idling speed. That would be the main cause of stalling in this case.

Q. I have been told that when-ever driving in a heavy rain it is necessary to hold one foot lightly on the brake pedal so as to prevent water from affecting the brakes — especially the front brakes. I am a new driver. Is this necessary? W. K.

A. In most cases this isn't necessary although it is always well to use the brakes frequently in wet weather as they may be affected by dampness even if no water gets into the brake drums. If driving through a flooded area of roadway, however, keeping your foot lightly on the pedal will help protect the brakes.

Q. Oil pressure is too high, according to the gauge on the dash of my car, but the engine seems to be running all right. What should I do about it? E. F. McC.

A. I would check the oil pressure relief valve which may be badly clogged. Also check the gauge for accuracy. If there were a clogged oil line the engine would burn out a bearing.

Q. I notice that the engine of my car is sluggish when trying to increase speed rapidly. It will seem to take a moderate increase if I give it time to build up. There is no sudden lapse when pressing on the accelerator sharply, but just a sense of something trying to hold back the car. I thought at first that it might be some form of vapor lock but the engine isn't running hot enough for that. T. T. W.

A. I suspect that the fuel pump is weak. But check also for a too low carburetor float level.

Q. There is a peculiar noise in my new car. It seems to be in the rear of the car, but checking into the luggage compartment fails to reveal anything unusual. This noise develops whenever the car's body is stressed as when running over an uneven road where there is side-to-side motion. K. L. P.

A. In the luggage compartment the partition leading to the rear seat is loose. I would try some better way of securing this.

Q. Will you kindly explain what is meant by "unsprung weight"? N. N. J.

A. This is all of the car's anatomy which isn't supported by its spring suspension. Included are the wheels, tires, brakes, axles, wheel bearing discs. You might roughly say it is all of the car below the springs.

Q. What would cause two coils to burn out? F. S.

A. Check for a poor connection in the primary circuit.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

ASKS SLASH IN STATE BUDGET FOR SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG (P)—Gov. George M. Leader Friday called for legislative approval of a bill that would trim 16 million dollars from the state's budget by changing the system of paying school subsidies.

However, Leader said the reductions "as desirable as they are, cannot be considered savings."

"In the final analysis school costs are determined at the local school district level," Leader said in a statement to his weekly news conference.

Sees Big Increases

Under present law the system of reimbursing school districts for new school construction, transportation and closed schools is based on the same formula used to determine the state's share of teachers' salaries.

However, Leader noted, that under this system—since teachers' salaries are automatically increasing under legislative mandates—the state's share of school construction costs would increase each year, while the actual cost of the structure remained constant.

The governor estimated that under the sliding scale formula now in effect the state's share of construction costs in the 1957-59 biennium would jump to 37 million dollars, and to 53½ million dollars in the 1959-61 biennium.

Truck Ceilings Should Be Uniform

HARRISBURG (P)—Truck weight ceilings between Pennsylvania and other states should be equalized, Gov. George M. Leader said Friday.

Asked at his weekly news conference if he favored legislation sponsored by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. to boost weight limits of commonly used trucks from 45,000 pounds to 60,000 pounds Leader replied:

"I think that people are pretty well agreed that there is some justification for equalization of truck weights between Pennsylvania and neighboring states. Basically, that will be my position."

Leader said he plans conferences with Joseph J. Lawler, secretary of highways, and state engineers to study individual provisions in the PMTA measure introduced in the House this week.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Ridgway wrote a letter to Secretary of the Army Stevens asking for retirement on June 30. Ridgway's term had until Aug. 15 to run.

Announce Paul A. Harner Will Be Full-Time Instructor At LHS; 1,000 See Exhibits, Hear Concert

Over 1,000 persons attended the annual "Open House" at the Littlestown Junior-Senior High School on Friday evening. Parents and friends inspected the displays arranged by the students and enjoyed the concert by the Littlestown High School band. There were exhibits in science, art, home economics and industrial arts.

During the musical program, Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown Jointure, announced that Paul A. Harner, who has been instructor of instrumental music at LHS for the last 21 years, will no longer be associated with the New Oxford High School and will become full-time instrumental instructor at the Littlestown school starting with the fall term.

One hundred and sixty students of the junior-senior high school, comprising the junior and senior bands, and approximately 40 pupils of tonette band, appeared as a combined group during the band concert Friday evening. County Commissioners Keep Their Promise And Cut Tax Rate 2 Mills; Budgets Ready

The Adams County commissioners kept their promise in the tax-cutting of the county today by keeping two mills off the taxes for 1955. The total tax levied by the county will be 16 mills.

The reduction reflects the increase in the assessment of property brought about by the new assessed assessment which went into effect this year. It is the second straight year in which county taxes have been reduced.

In 1954 the total levied was 18 mills, with 22 mills going for bonds. In 1955 the amount was reduced to 22 mills when the county had obtained a bond issue for $100,000. This year the amount of the tax was brought to 24 mills.

You know my record as a commissioner and as president of the board of commissioners. On that record I seek your support of my candidacy for Commissioner of Adams County at the Republican Primary, May 17.

Polio Vaccine For More Than A Million Shots Are Released

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—After a week-long halt for safety rechecking, the government has turned loose enough Salk polio vaccine for "over a million more" school children.

Several state health officers approved immediate resumption of their mass vaccination programs on receiving word yesterday that the Public Health Service had cleared 11 batches of vaccine made by Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit. One lot of Parke, Davis vaccine was kept back for full information on review of its tests. Some of the states will start

Monday. School is out for the weekend in most places.

U. S. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele announced late yesterday that a Health Service team had completed its recheck of 4,250,000ccs of the Parke-Davis product. He said some three fourths of this total already had been used, but that "over a million more children can now be vaccinated" with the remainder, beginning at once. One shot takes one cc of the vaccine.

5 Million Inoculated
An estimated 5 1/4 million children already have received the first of a projected three-shot series.

States which received Parke, Davis serum included New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Virginia, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Utah, Colorado, Arizona, Oregon, Washington, California, New Mexico. Some also went to Alaska.

Michigan and Utah had continued their inoculation programs even after the nationwide suspension.

The inoculations came to a temporary stop a week ago pending a plant-by-plant reappraisal by Public Health Service specialists of vaccine manufacturing safety standards.

Ordered Double Check

Parke, Davis was the first of five pharmaceutical firms to be visited by Health Service teams. Eli Lilly & Co. of Indianapolis was next on the list and government scientists were reported already at work there.

Scheele recommended suspension of the inoculation program and ordered the safety double-check after a number of youngsters came down with polio, following injection with the preventive serum.

He has on several occasions reiterated his faith in the vaccine itself and yesterday told the House Banking Committee temporary setbacks in no way threaten the "ultimate success" of the program.

As of yesterday, the Health Service said it had confirmed 67 post-inoculation cases of polio — 55 among children who received vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. All supplies produced by the Cutter firm have been withdrawn for a special check. At least four more suspected cases were being studied by the Health Service.

SOVIET BLOC SIGNS MUTUAL DEFENSE PACT

By COLIN FROST

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The Soviet Union and its seven East European allies today signed the Warsaw treaty of mutual security and friendship.

At the same time, they signed a protocol putting their military forces under one command.

The text of the agreement and presumably the name of the "Eastern NATO" supreme commander were to be published later.

It was generally believed, however, that the job would go to Ivan Konev, 57-year-old Soviet marshal, with a reputation in both East and West as a fine professional soldier.

Terms Approved

The terms of the treaty, aimed at countering West Germany's rearmament in alliance with the West, were approved yesterday.

The pact links the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, East Germany and Albania in the military alliance and provides for mutual aid and cultural exchanges.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin told the opening session of the conference Wednesday the treaty would be open to any other European country wishing to join and the alliance would automatically dissolve itself if any all-European security system could be devised.

Modern automobiles average about 125,000 miles on the average throughout their lifetimes, although a third that figure used to be considered satisfactory.

In temperature until cooler Sunday night through Tuesday, warmer Wednesday, showers again by Sunday afternoon and night, total precipitation 1/2-1 inch.

Polio Vaccine For More Than A Million Shots Are Released

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — After a week-long halt for safety rechecking, the government has turned loose enough Salk polio vaccine for "over a million more" school children.

Several state health officers approved immediate resumption of their mass vaccination programs on receiving word yesterday that the Public Health Service had cleared 11 batches of vaccine made by Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit. One lot of Parke, Davis vaccine was kept back for full information on review of its tests. Some of the states will start

Monday. School is out for the weekend in most places.

U. S. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele announced late yesterday that a Health Service team had completed its recheck of 4-250,000ccs of the Parke-Davis product. He said some three fourths of this total already had been used, but that "over a million more children can now be vaccinated" with the remainder, beginning at once. One shot takes one cc of the vaccine.

5 Million Inoculated
An estimated 5 1/2 million children already have received the first of a projected three-shot

series.
States which received Parke, Davis serum included New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Virginia, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Utah, Colorado, Arizona, Oregon, Washington, California, New Mexico. Some also went to Alaska.

Michigan and Utah had continued their inoculation programs even after the nationwide suspension. The inoculations came to a temporary stop a week ago pending a plant-by-plant reappraisal by Public Health Service specialists of vaccine manufacturing safety standards.

Ordered Double Check
Parke, Davis was the first of five pharmaceutical firms to be visited by Health Service teams. Eli Lilly & Co. of Indianapolis was next on the list and government scientists were reported already at work there.

Scheele recommended suspension of the inoculation program and ordered the safety double-check after a number of youngsters came down with polio, following injection with the preventive serum.

He has on several occasions reiterated his faith in the vaccine itself and yesterday told the House Banking Committee temporary setbacks in no way threaten the "ultimate success" of the program.

As of yesterday, the Health Service said it had confirmed 67 post-inoculation cases of polio — 55 among children who received vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. All supplies produced by the Cutter firm have been withdrawn for a special check. At least four more suspected cases were being studied by the Health Service.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for Saturday, May 14, through Wednesday, May 18:

Western Pennsylvania, western New York, Ohio and West Virginia: Temperature will average 2-5 degree above normal, little change

SOVIET BLOC SIGNS MUTUAL DEFENSE PACT

By COLIN FROST
WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Soviet Union and its seven East European allies today signed the Warsaw treaty of mutual security and friendship.

At the same time, they signed a protocol putting their military forces under one command.

The text of the agreement and presumably the name of the "Eastern NATO" supreme commander were to be published later.

It was generally believed, however, that the job would go to Ivan Konev, 57-year-old Soviet marshal, with a reputation in both East and West as a fine professional soldier.

Terms Approved
The terms of the treaty, aimed at countering West Germany's rearmament in alliance with the West, were approved yesterday.

The pact links the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, East Germany and Albania in the military alliance and provides for mutual aid and cultural exchanges.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin told the opening session of the conference Wednesday the treaty would be open to any other European country wishing to join and the alliance would automatically dissolve itself if any all-European security system could be devised.

Modern automobiles average about 125,000 miles, on the average throughout their lifetimes, although a third that figure used to be considered satisfactory.

In temperature until cooler Sunday night through Tuesday, warmer Wednesday, showers again by Sunday afternoon and night, total precipitation 1-2 inch.

MOLOTOV MAY SPEAK OUT ON BIG FOUR TALKS

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Russia's V. M. Molotov, flying here for the historic Austrian treaty signing, was expected to tell the Western foreign ministers today how the Kremlin feels about top level Big Four talks.

Western informants felt certain the poker-faced Soviet diplomat would seek a different sort of conference than that envisaged by the West for the Big Four heads of state this July.

The informants said word has trickled out of Moscow that Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin:

1. Is ready to accept the principle of the Western call to explore new trails of negotiation in quest of peace.

2. Prefers something more comprehensive than the West's idea for a three or four day conference between the heads of government, if they are to fulfill adequately the job of charting a course towards East-West understanding.

3. Intends to press demands that Red China be represented at such a conference.

The Western Allies sought to make certain things clear to the Kremlin when they proposed the meeting earlier this week.

1. It was to be a short meeting.

2. The chiefs of government should themselves not negotiate but merely direct their foreign ministers how and where to proceed toward the goal of easing east-west tensions.

3. The talks should relate primarily to Europe. Thus they hoped to sidestep the Red China issue.

Molotov has been attending the Warsaw conference where Russia and seven East European Communist states pledged to help each other in peace and war.

The Warsaw meeting in effect strengthened Molotov's hand when it proclaimed an East European security alliance designed to counter the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Molotov is expected to discuss

Please be careful. PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Last year alone, forest fires burned 10 million acres of valuable timber, an area larger than Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island combined.

9 out of 10 of these fires were caused by well-meaning people who were careless with cigarettes, matches, campfires, brush and trash fires.

Make sure your fires are dead out!

Published as a public service in cooperation with The Advertising Council.

these and other East-West issues over a dinner arranged for tonight in the American embassy where he will get together with Secretary of State Dulles, Britain's Harold MacMillan and France's Antoine Pinay.

The four foreign ministers are officially gathered here for tomorrow's signing of the treaty which will pledge Austria's independence after 17 years military occupation.

The answer to why Russia finally agreed to clear the way for an Austrian settlement apparently lies in the "neutrality" agreement.

This was the price the Soviets demanded and got for okaying Austrian independence.

Under the agreement Austria is to promise to make no foreign military alliances and to permit no foreign bases on her soil.

PLUNGE TO DEATH

KINGWOOD, W. Va. (AP)—Two Preston County mine employees plunged to their deaths yesterday when the 10-ton locomotive they were operating fell through a 30-foot trestle.

The accident occurred at the Ream Mine No. 1 of the Kray Coal Co. at Howellsville, about a mile south of here.

The victims were Oscar Griffith, 44, a motorman from Kingwood, and Lazzaro Kyle, 41, a brakeman from Tunnelton.

Given Keys To VFW Home

Attorney Charles W. Wolf (left), chairman of the building committee for the new VFW Post Home, is shown presenting keys to the building to Francis Wisotzky, commander of the post, and Thomas J. NEW VFW HOME IS DEDICATED ON SATURDAY

Gettysburg Post 15, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Saturday marked the 20th anniversary of its founding with dedicatory exercises for its new $100,000 post home on E. Middle St.

Approximately 175 attended the dedicatory ceremonies Saturday afternoon and more than 400 visited the home during the day.

Attorney Paul C. Wolman, Baltimore, past national commander in chief of the VFW, urged dedication of the building and the VFW membership to the "finest ideals of the VFW and to active participation in community betterment." There were reminiscences of the history of the post over the last two decades and there was a roll call of the charter members. Most of the original 57 members are now deceased.

There was honor Clyde Berger, who served as commander longer than any other man and who with four or five members kept the post alive for a period of time during the depression years.

Leader Sends Regards
Representatives from other organizations and auxiliaries, veterans and civic, paid their respects to the VFW post on its achievement.

Governor George M. Leader sent a letter "extending the cordial good wishes of the commonwealth to Gettysburg Post 15," and sent a telegram to express his regret at his inability to be present. In his letter the governor said, "Because of my great confidence in the Veterans of Foreign Wars as constructive citizens who build community morale and inspire greater confidence in the American way of life, I regret exceedingly my inability to accept your kind invitation to attend. The exceptional heavy pressure of official commitments for May 14 precludes my presence at this important meeting."

Here And There News Collected At Random

Cedric Adams, one of the most popular columnists in the mid-west who in addition to conducting a daily column also does a stint on the radio, recently wrote a column on hospital bills. We believe it is rather timely to reprint it, in view of our current campaign to raise $250,000 for an addition to the Annie M. Warner Hospital. Here it is:

Hospital bills have concerned a great many of us through the years. I ran across a piece on the hospital dollar the other day that seemed interesting enough to pass along. "This bill is terrible. I'm not going to pay it," said the man at the desk. "How can you expect a working man like me to pay $125 for three days of care? What we need is hospitals that are run by the government." The cashier was having a bad time with the husband of an outgoing patient.

The man's wife had been brought in to the hospital for an emergency appendectomy three days before. The bill, broken down, covered $52.50 for the room for three days, $60 for the surgeon, $10.40 for routine laboratory costs and $5 for drugs.

He served on several policy-making bodies of the Maryland and Central Pennsylvania Synods of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Rev. Heintz, a native of Albany, Pa., was educated at Muhlenberg College and the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia. Serving two parishes in Northampton and Allentown, Pa., from 1931 until 1948, he has, since 1948, been pastor of Grace Church in Lancaster. From 1935 until 1953 he served on various boards and committees of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania. Receive Call For 19 Men June 16

Miss Margaret McIlhenny, secretary of the Adams County Draft Board, received a call this morning for 19 men for June 16. "This is the largest call we've had since January when they asked for 13 men," she said.

Four men, all volunteers, left Gettysburg this morning at 6:35 o'clock for Harrisburg from where they will go to New Cumberland for induction. They are: Sterling C. Singler, Arendtsville, leader; Samuel A. Ebersole, East Berlin R. D., assistant leader; Charles D. Krepps, McSherrytown; and Gerald F. O'Brien, New Oxford.

On the bus were six additional volunteers who reported for their physical examinations.

HITS PARKED CAR

Charlotte M. Coleman, R. 3, driving south on Carlisle St. Saturday morning struck the left rear fender of a parked car owned by Fred G. Reischneider, Garden City, N. Y., causing damage estimated at $50. She told borough police that a car coming out of a driveway caused her to apply the brake suddenly and skid. Investigation is being continued.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license has been issued by the clerk of courts to Larry Gene Lawver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Lawver, Biglerville, and Barbara Ann Geiselman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Geiselman, Biglerville.

More Than 600 Candidates For Half That Many Posts Seek Nominations Tuesday

Adams countians will go to the polls Tuesday to name more than 600 candidates for about half that many offices throughout the county.

Twenty-two candidates for county offices will be nominated. The remainder will be for borough and township offices, and election officials expect to work all night Tuesday to determine the winners among the numerous written-in candidates for many of offices. While there are candidates listed on the ballot for most of the nominations to be filled, there are still more than 100 posts that will have to be filled by the voters writing in the names of their choices for those offices.

A total of 18,072 voters will be eligible to cast ballots at the primary, but most observers believe that only about half that many voters will be cast. The Republican party has 9,967 registered voters. Democrats have 7,873.

11 For Commissioner

Much interest is centered on the contests for county commissioner, with 11 men seeking the four nominations. The Republicans have six candidates seeking their two

43 FIREMEN GET DIPLOMAS THIS EVENING

The names of the 43 firemen who will receive certificates for successful completion of the fire school held over the past four months were announced today by Fire Chief Donald W. McSherry.

The men will receive their certificates this evening at 7:30 o'clock at a service to be held at the Court House with Andrew Beshore, of the governor's safety council, as principal speaker.

Those who will receive the certificates are to meet at the fire house at 7:15 o'clock this evening to march as a group to the Court House, Chief McSherry said. Other firemen are urged to report with their families at the Court House at 7:30 o'clock for the service. The general public is invited to attend.

Final Session Sunday

Following the Court House event the recipients of the certificates will be fed at the fire engine house. Those who will receive the awards include Paul Fissel, chief of the Biglerville fire department; Clifford Hartzell, assistant chief of the Arendtsville fire company, and the following from the Gettysburg fire (Continued On Page 3)

Man Jailed For Carrying Weapon

John R. McGlaughlin, 22 York St., signed a plea of guilty to a charge of carrying a concealed deadly weapon this morning before Justice of the Peace John H. Beshore, and was committed to the county jail in default of $300 bail.

McGlaughlin was arrested by borough police Sunday morning in the Adams House, on a complaint from the proprietor that he was carrying a knife and threatening people with it. He was jailed until his hearing this morning.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY CRITICALLY HURT IN MISHAP

Larry Robert Sayor, 5 son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sayor, R. 3, underwent surgery at a Baltimore hospital this morning as specialists sought to save his life. The child suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries Saturday afternoon when he was struck by an auto driven by Harry F. Legore, 76, Hanover R. 2.

The accident occurred, state police said, at 1:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon. They reported that the child, believed to have been playing ball on the lawn at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hemler, started into the Table Rock Rd. at Grandview Terrace from behind a hedge. The left front fender of the Legore car struck the child, knocking him to the roadway.

Undergoes Surgery

Charles Hemler, the child's grandfather, who is a Justice of the Peace in Cumberland Twp., was among the first at the scene. The Gettysburg ambulance was called. In the meantime a Maryland Co. truck appeared on the scene and the grandfather and child were taken in the truck to Lincoln Square here, where they met the ambulance enroute to the (Continued On Page 7)

Hospital Fund Drive Reaches $26,183 Mark

Five corporate contributions received this morning, aggregating $11,200, advanced the hospital campaign to $26,183.01. In addition to the corporate contributions $3,330 was turned in by solicitors over the weekend.

The acceptance of community responsibilities by the corporate contributors was reflected in the letter from Joseph E. Codori, president of the Citizens Oil Company, accompanying a $1,000 contribution to the $250,000 building fund needed immediately in which he said:

Wishes Successful Drive
"The enclosed check in the amount of $1,000 is forwarded in recognition of our community responsibility toward the current Fund Drive of the hospital."

"We feel that as an employer of the community we have a double responsibility toward helping provide adequate hospital facilities. First is our responsibility toward our employees, and second is our responsibility as a local company to participate in community affairs."

"You have our very best wishes for a successful drive for this worthy project."

In addition to the $11,200 corporate contributions, the five corporate contributors pledged an additional $14,800 to the second phase of the hospital's building program which will get underway after completion of the first wing.

"It is vitally important that our volunteer solicitors report their contributions thus far to their chairman so that a fuller tabulation of the full extent of the campaign can be made and announced publicly," Walter B. Dillon, hospital administrator, said this morning.

Mrs. Kunkel's health is described as "good." She still pursues her hobbies of crocheting tablecloths and making hooked rugs, and is reported to have crocheted two tablecloths within the past year.

APPROVE BOND

A tax collector's bond of $7,500 was approved for Donald A. Smith, Liberty Twp., Saturday by Judge W. C. Sheely.

EISENHOWERS AT SERVICE IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY

President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower attended Sunday morning worship services in the historic Gettysburg Presbyterian Church and sat near the pew that Abraham Lincoln had occupied there at a patriotic service nearly 92 years ago.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower, who are members and regular attendants at the National Presbyterian Church in Washington, sat with their friends, Gen. and Mrs. Arthur S. Nevins, Gettysburg R. 3, in a pew that had been reserved for them by the ushers.

Arrangements for the President and the First Lady to attend the church service were begun about an hour earlier by Secret Service men.

Hundreds Wait Outside

The church was well-filled and other hundreds stood outside to see the Eisenhowers enter and leave the place of worship that had served as a hospital during the Battle of Gettysburg.

The pastor, the Rev. Clyde R. Brown, delivered a sermon on this text taken from Matthew: "A good tree bringeth forth good fruit" and developed the theme of the importance of good works in Christian faith and declared that "faith without a growing change in life is fraud."

It was the first time the Eisenhowers had attended services here moving into their farm home.

Occupy Sixth Pew

They occupied the sixth pew from the front on the right side of the center section, two seats back of the flag-marked Lincoln pew which bears several bronze plaques telling its history. A Secret Service man in plain clothes sat immediately back of the President. Another sat near the front of the other side of the church. There were several at the back of the church and more on the outside. They had made a complete inspection of the building between 10 and 10:45 a.m., the hour of the service.

With State and Borough police helping control traffic and the crowd outside the church, the Eisenhowers limousine drew up to the curb in a reserved section in front of the church a few minutes before the hour for the service to begin. As Ike and Mamie stepped from the car they were greeted by Oren H. Wilson, Church School superintendent, who took them into the church and introduced them to S. Gray Bigham, Biglerville, senior elder of the church, who ushered them to the seat that had been reserved for them.

Carries Note

Mr. Bigham had in his pocket a note from the President acknowledging an invitation from Mr. Bigham to attend services in the local church. The note said he and Mrs. Eisenhower hoped to attend services there in the near future. The letter was dated April 8.

NEW OXFORD BOY VICTOR SUNDAY IN "ROAD-E-O"

Bruce Anderson, New Oxford High School student, was the victor Sunday afternoon in the annual Teenage "Road-e-o" held by the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Anderson is a son of County Probation Officer and Mrs. D. M. Anderson, Abbottstown.

Twenty-five youthful drivers took part in the contest in driving skills over a course established by the Jaycees on the Acme parking lot, West St. Anderson scored 433 points out of a possible 500 point total for both the driving test held Sunday and a written examination conducted at the Gettysburg High School earlier in the week.

Boyd Seig, another New Oxford High School entry, took second place with a total of 430 points. Anderson, as first place winner, received a $25 U. S. Savings bond and a certificate and will represent Gettysburg in the state-wide driving contest to be held by the Pennsylvania Jaycees in Johnstown next month. Sieg, the second place winner, received as an award a car floor mat from Swope's Atlantic Service and a certificate for a portrait at Lane's Studio.

Last Year's Winner
Roland Keller, McKeeshtown, a student at Gettysburg High School was third with a score of 418. He received an auto seat from Service Supply and a Parker pen from Peoples Drug Store.

Gerald Settle, Gettysburg with 408 and Ronald Streig, Littlestown, with 404, were the fourth and fifth place winners, each also receiving an award. Streig was the winner of last year's road-e-o held by the Jaycees.

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Russia's V. M. Molotov, flying here for the historic Austrian treaty signing, was expected to tell the Western foreign ministers today how the Kremlin feels about top level Big Four talks.

Western informants felt certain the poker-faced Soviet diplomat would seek a different sort of conference than that envisaged by the West for the Big Four heads of state this July.

The informants said word has trickled out of Moscow that Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin:

1. Is ready to accept the principle of the Western call to explore new trails of negotiation in quest of peace.
2. Prefers something more comprehensive than the West's idea for a three or four day conference between the heads of government, if they are to fulfill adequately the job of charting a course towards East-West understanding.
3. Intends to press demands that Red China be represented at such a conference.

The Western Allies sought to make certain things clear to the Kremlin when they proposed the meeting earlier this week.

1. It was to be a short meeting.
2. The chiefs of government should themselves not negotiate but merely direct their foreign ministers how and where to proceed toward the goal of easing East-West tensions.
3. The talks should relate primarily to Europe. Thus they hoped to sidestep the Red China issue.

Molotov has been attending the Warsaw conference where Russia and seven East European Communist states pledged to help each other in peace and war.

The Warsaw meeting in effect strengthened Molotov's hand when it proclaimed an East European security alliance designed to counter the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Molotov is expected to discuss

Prevent FOREST FIRES!

Last year alone, forest fires burned 10 million acres of valuable timber, an area larger than Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island combined.

9 out of 10 of these fires were caused by well-meaning people who were careless with cigarettes, matches, campfires, brush and trash fires.

Make sure your fires are dead out!

these and other East-West issues over a dinner arranged for tonight in the American embassy where he will get together with Secretary of State Dulles, Britain's Harold Macmillan and France's Antoine Pinay.

The four foreign ministers are officially gathered here for tomorrow's signing of the treaty which will pledge Austria's independence after 17 years military occupation.

The answer to why Russia finally agreed to clear the way for an Austrian settlement apparently lies in the "neutrality" agreement.

This was the price the Soviets demanded and got for okaying Austrian independence.

PLUNGE TO DEATH

KINGWOOD, W. Va. (AP)—Two Preston County mine employees plunged to their deaths yesterday when the 10-ton locomotive they were operating fell through a 30-foot trestle.

The accident occurred at the Ream Mine No. 1 of the Krays Coal Co. at Howellsville, about a mile south of here.

The victims were Oscar Griffith, 44, a motorman from Kingwood, and Lazious Kyle, 41, a brakeman from Tunnelton.

NINE JUNIORS INITIATED INTO HONOR SOCIETY

Nine Junior students were initiated into the Lambda Tau Chapter of the National Honor Society at Littlestown High School, when the annual initiation exercises were held recently in the music room at the high school. The following juniors were received into the society: Susan Baumgardner, Fay Fissel, Ann Karns, Clara Rider, Nancy Slusser, Kathryn Strevig, Barton Yohn, Donald Zepp and James Zulick. Students were chosen not only on the basis of scholarship but also for character, service and leadership. Before being considered, a student must maintain a B average for three consecutive semesters and must belong to Littlestown High School for a year.

Following the initiation ceremonies, the senior members entertained the group with games and refreshments. Frank E. Basehor and Miss LeOra L. Held, of the faculty, are advisors for Lambda Tau.

Walter Young, transfer student at Gettysburg College, from the Hawaiian Islands, gave an illustrated lecture to the eight grade students at the East King Street School, as part of their history instruction. The speaker was secured through the efforts of Miss Dolores Rae Reindollar, student teacher in the Littlestown Jointure, from the College. Mr. Young related information concerning the living conditions, temperature, peoples, etc., and displayed pamphlets of clothing, illustrated pamphlets, etc., from the Islands.

tests on their ballot, but the Republicans have contests for every county office with the exception of judge, district attorney, coroner, surveyor and county auditor.

Unopposed as candidates for Democratic nominations are: Judge W. C. Sheely for renomination as judge; Earl W. Guise, Gettysburg R. 4 for associate judge; incumbent Daniel E. Peeter for district attorney; Herbert W. Miller, Menallen Twp., for prothonotary and R. L. Pittenturf, York Springs, for register and recorder.

George P. Taylor, Biglerville R. 1 and Arthur W. Culp, also of Biglerville R. 1 are the two candidates for the associate judge nomination. Three men are seeking the prothonotary nod, the incumbent, Wayne K. Shields of Straban Twp.; Frank J. Sionaker, Gettysburg, and John H. MacBeth, Menallen Twp. Carl S. Menchev, Gettysburg and Ray M. Black, Straban Twp. are candidates for the Republican nomination for register and recorder.

Expect Write-In Ballots
Attorney Donald P. McPherson Jr. is the Republican candidate for the nomination for judge of the court of common pleas; Donald G. Oyler, Gettysburg, is the only Republican seeking his party's nomination for district attorney.

Tellers will have hundreds of names to tally for the post of county auditor. There is only one name on the Republican ballot for auditor, incumbent Henry M. Hersh of New Oxford. There is only one name listed for county auditor on the Democratic ballot, incumbent Arthur M. Weikert, Gettysburg. Each party must name two auditors.

Dr. C. G. Crist, incumbent county coroner, is the only candidate for that office on the Republican ballot. The Democrats have no one on their ballot for coroner. Again written-in votes will decide.

Other Offices
Written-in votes will decide the candidates for county surveyor on both tickets. Neither the Republicans nor Democrats have any one listed on the ballot for the post.

In each township and borough, auditors, school directors, constables, judges of election and inspectors of election will be named. The towns will also vote for councilmen and the townships for supervisors. Some districts will also name candidates for justices of the peace. Only a few districts have candidates seeking the nominations on both parties. Some districts, like Highland, have no local candidates at all listed for either party.

Voters will have a short ballot to fill, but election officials will have a long night ahead of them—because of the slow process of counting the numerous names that will have to be written in to fill out the ballots throughout the county.

Supplies for the various election houses were distributed by the county commissioners Saturday with the exception of Gettysburg. Gettysburg's four districts will receive their election supplies Tuesday morning before the doors open at 8 o'clock. Voting will continue until 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

ANNUAL MAY PROCESSION IS HELD ON SUNDAY

An overflow crowd witnessed the annual May procession at St. Francis Xavier Church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at which Miss Teresa Redding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin A. Redding, S. Washington St., climaxed the traditional ceremonies by crowning the Blessed Virgin.

Miss Redding, dressed in white net over satin with a long pale blue court train, was assisted by Martha J. McDermitt, Kathy Baird and Emily McGlaughlin. Paul Evanko and Robert Rau were trainbearers. Miss McDermitt wore a blue gown and the others were in white.

The procession was led by the following eighth grade boys: Lawrence Martin, cross bearer, and Ronald Asper and David Cole, acolytes. They were followed by the First Communion class, and grades one to seven. The eighth grade boys and girls, each accompanied by two first communicants, preceded the May Queen and her attendants.

Girls Wear Gowns

The eighth grade girls were: Charles Althoff, Edward Groft, Bernard Rosensteel, Francis Smith, Bernard Robinson, Michael Knox and John Gastley.

The eighth grade girls, who wore pastel-colored gowns, were: Carol A. Reaver, Gladys Althoff, Dorothy Miller, Emma Keller, Estelle Redding, Eleanor Jacobs, Susan Goldsbrough, Dorothy Herring, Rose Hemler, Louise Pienturf, Constance Wilkinson, Constance Riley, Patricia A. Redding, Patricia M. Redding and Julia Moore.

The first communicant girls wore white dresses and veils and the boys wore white suits. The older girls wore white dresses and wreaths of smilax in their hair.

The Rev. Fr. Louis G. Forgens, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Hanover, and former assistant at the local church, delivered the sermon. Father Forgens said "Mary is queen of heaven and earth by her right of power and the demands of justice." He urged all to pay "homage to Mary as Queen of Heaven and to depend on her for help."

Mrs. George P. Eberhart, organist, accompanied the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Grade children who sang the processional hymn, "Salve, Salve" and "Immaculate Mary." After the recitation of the Rosary the children sang the crowning hymn, "Hail Virgin, Dearest Mary," as Miss Redding crowned the Blessed Virgin. After the children recited the Act of Consecration they sang "Veni Creator." The sermon was followed by "Whither Thine in Holy Rapture."

The pastor, Rev. Fr. Anthony P. Kane, officiated at solemn benediction, assisted by Rev. Fr. Wallace Wallace E. Sawdy, assistant pastor, and Father Forgens. The closing hymn, "Holy God We Praise Thy Name," was sung by the children and congregation.

The church were General and Mrs. Nevin, who had joined them at the church steps. The four occupied the pew which had been reserved for them by ushers under the direction of Charles Holoka, the host usher for May.

After the benediction, while the congregation resumed their seats for a moment of silent prayer, the Rev. Mr. Brown walked to the Eisenhower pew, greeted the President and walked with the Eisenhowers to the church doors where they shook hands again for the benefit of photographers who were waiting on the church steps. The crowd outside burst into applause as the Eisenhowers walked to their car. Both were smiling and the President bowed in acknowledgment of the applause.

Mrs. Eisenhower wore a little white hat, a silver fur stole, black suit and shoes and white gloves. The President wore a dark blue suit.

No Change In Service

The presence of the Eisenhowers did not alter the service in any way. After the organ prelude by Organist Philip McGuire, the congregation sang "All People That on Earth Do Dwell" and after a prayer by the pastor, joined in a responsive reading of a part of the 34th Psalm. Then Mrs. Margaret B. McGuire sang Handel's "Hallelujah." After a prayer and a second hymn the choir sang the Brahms German requiem "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" as the offertory anthem.

"Be ye doers of the word and not hearers only," the Rev. Mr. Brown told his congregation. "You see a good tree bringeth forth good fruit. We Christians are often tempted to pretend to be better than we are and the false front of such pretense must be torn away. The Epistle of James, standing boldly in the forthright tradition of our Lord, is very good at this. It refuses to be impressed by pious pretense unsupported by life. It calls for honest obedience to God in the daily round of duty."

"Works without love are hollow as is faith without works," he continued. "What does it profit, my brethren, if a man says he has faith but has not works. Can his faith save him? If a brother or sister is ill-clad and in lack of daily food and one of you says to him 'Go in peace, be warmed and filled' without giving them the things needed for the body, what does it profit? Faith by itself, if it has no work, is dead. Faith that is mere talk—that claims to believe but shows no growing change in life is a fraud."

"Trail Of Sacrifice"

"In Jesus, God is down to earth with His feet on the ground, walking the hard trails of suffering and sacrifice, of unflinching faith and hope and love. . . . Blessed is the man who endures trial, for when he has stood the test, he will receive the crown of life which God has promised to those who love Him."

"Whoever knows what is right to do and fails to do it, for him it is sin," he concluded.

In his prayer the pastor had included a petition for "the President of the United States, the government and all those in positions of authority, for those who sit in the world councils of the nations, that wisdom and goodness may prevail."

Return To Washington

The Eisenhowers returned to Washington in the early evening. Thousands drove out the Water Works Rd. and along W. Confederate Ave. for a glimpse of the President's farm and many climbed the observation tower on the avenue for a better look.

Frida's rain cancelled the President's plans for golf at the Gettysburg Country Club.

Next time he goes to the Country Club he will find that several runabout carts are available for his use on the golf course. They are like the ones he sometimes uses for playing golf at Washington or in Georgia. A small, private room also has been provided for his use at the Country Club at one end of the locker room. In that room are a table, chair, a grass rug, a locker and two shower stalls. The electric club carts and the special room have been provided since he played there last three weeks ago.

Most of the weekend was spent "making it easy" at the farm where the birthday party for Mrs. Doud, Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, was held Friday evening.

How Church Seat Was Chosen

Arrangements at the church were handled by the Secret Service. While one conferred with the pastor, others made a thorough inspection of the building, barred use of one front entrance to strangers, assigned borough and state police to positions and had First Assistant Fire Chief Donald Staub making periodic checks of the building.

The seat the President was to occupy was chosen this way: Secret Service asked the Rev. Mr. Brown where he "wanted the Eisenhowers" to sit. He said any place in the church was open for them and the Secret Service suggested the Lincoln pew. Mr. Brown agreed readily but pointed out that the old-style pew might be less comfortable for the President and First Lady than other seats. A telephone conversation with the Eisenhower home resulted in selection of the seat near the Lincoln pew.

Warriors Finish Second In Yielding South Penn Title To Carlisle; 3 Records Set

Gettysburg High School's three-year reign as track champions of the South Penn Conference came to an end Saturday as Carlisle's well-balanced squad lived up to advance expectations in winning the 1955 title in the 21st annual event before approximately 1,000 fans on the Dickinson College field, Carlisle.

Merv Johnson, ace sprinter for Carlisle, established two new meet records in pacing the Thundering Herd who accounted for 65½ points. Gettysburg finished second with 53 followed by Chambersburg 29; Waynesboro 18; Middletown 13; Hanover 12; Hershey 11½, and Shippensburg which failed to score.

Johnson took the 100-yard dash final in 9.8 seconds shattering the 10.1 mark set by the late Crawford Trotter of Gettysburg in 1934 and tied in 1941 by Eddie Shoop of Gettysburg and in 1948 by Bill Kane of Chambersburg. He won the 220 in 22.4 to better the mark of 22.7 set by Shue, Hanover, in 1943.

Breaks Carter's Mark
Sid Wells, Chambersburg, established another conference mark when he tossed the 12-pound ball in the shotput 46-8 to better the former mark of 43-10 set in 1953 by John Carter of Gettysburg.

George Pomey's Warriors, winners of the conference title in 16 of the 21 events, took two first places and tied for first in two others.

Joe Tonsel captured the broad jump with a leap of 19-10½. The 880-yard relay team of Tonsel, Forrest Stouck, Dick Pennington and Ronnie Williams, turned in a 1:36.5 mark to win that event.

The first place ties were gained by Joe Dearing who ran a dead heat with Dave Dowd, Carlisle, in the 440, who were clocked at 53.9, and Dick Stough who jumped 10-0 in the pole vault to tie with Andy Green of Carlisle.

SAD WEEK FOR TV FANS WHO LIKE BOXING

By MURRAY ROSE
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This is a sad week for boxing's television fans. The two big fights of the week won't be telecast into the homes and Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena, famed as "The House of Upsets," closes its doors to boxing after more than three years of developing talent and producing fine cards.

Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, the all-conquering Brockton blaster, defends his title against the five-times flattened Don Cockell of England at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium tonight.

This bout, starting at 10 p.m. (EST) will be broadcast and telecast over a closed circuit to theaters from Denver to the East coast.

Tomorrow night in New Orleans, undefeated Frankie Ryff of New York, the third ranking lightweight contender, and Ralph Dupas, the No. 1 challenger from New Orleans, battle it out in a 10-rounder. The scrap won't be broadcast or telecast.

College Nine Triumphs 3-2 Over Albright For 10th Win Of Campaign

Johnny Schleicher turned in another fine pitching performance as he tossed a five-hitter to enable the Gettysburg College baseball team to edge Albright 3-2 at Reading Saturday afternoon. The victory boosted the Bullets' record to 10-3-1.

This afternoon the Bullets met Lafayette (11-5) on the local diamond and Tuesday journey to Annapolis to meet Navy.

Schleicher, a sophomore, gave up five hits and fanned nine. His mound opponent, Tom Pollock, permitted but three hits.

Gettysburg scored a run in the first inning. After Hendley ailed out, Heideburger singled and advanced to second on a balk. Schleicher was safe at first on a wild throw by Stoneback, Heideburger moving to third base. Another balk by Pollock allowed Heideburger to score and Schalick to move to second. The next two batsmen went out.

Albright took a 2-1 lead in the third. Dragon doubled, Seaman and Florindo walked and Conrad singled to produce the runs.

Polak Hits, Throws
The Bullets tied the count with a run in the sixth and then tabbed the winning run in the eighth. Hendley opened the eighth by being safe on an error. He was sacrificed to second by Heideburger. Schalick

MARCIANO PUTS HIS CROWN ON LINE TONIGHT

By BOB MYERS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Undefeated Rocky Marciano puts his treasured world heavyweight title on the line for the fifth time tonight and practically no one thinks that challenger Don Cockell of England will take it away from the blockbuster from Brockton, Mass.

The 30-year-old champion has never been beaten in his 47 fights, dating back to his ring debut in July 1948, and the betting people are laying 8-1 that Rocky will run the incredible string to 48.

Few, indeed, give the pudgy, 26-year-old hog farmer from Horam much of a chance to last the full 15 rounds.

Expect 42nd Kayo
Marciano's blasting fists, they believe, will make the British Empire titleholder No. 42 on the Rock's kayo record.

The scrap will take place in San Francisco's largest football arena, Kezar Stadium.

NBC will broadcast at 10 p.m. E.S.T.

There will be no home television. It will be televised on a closed circuit for screening in 83 theaters in 59 cities.

Promoters Jimmy Murry and Lou Thomas, in conjunction with the International Boxing Club, remained hopeful that 40,000 fans will pay $400,000 for seats scaled from $40 to $5.

At Least $300,000 Gate
Less optimistic observers looked for a turnout of 30,000 and gate receipts approaching $300,000.

Marciano weighed 189 pounds when he wound up training—with a total of 210 rounds—two days ago at his camp 75 miles north of here at Calistoga.

Cockell, at suburban San Rafael, after 268 rounds of boxing and many long hours of similar labors, was down to 207.

No Is Key Question
Marciano, who won the championship with a 13-round knockout over Jersey Joe Walcott Sept. 23, 1952, in Philadelphia, has looked great in his workouts.

The key question about the durable Rock, however, is his nose. Sliced badly on the tip itself in the second Ezzard Charles fight last Sept. 17 in New York, the nose was given a plastic surgery repair job.

The champion and his manager, Al Weill believe the nose will stand up under Cockell's punches. But no one really knows for certain because actually the nose has not been given a real beat. A special protective mask was devised to protect it against his sparring mates' blows.

G-Burg Linksmen 3rd In Tourney

Gettysburg College's golf team finished third in the five-team tournament held Saturday at Western Maryland College, Westminster.

Top honors went to Juniata with a team total of 621. Other scores were: Loyola 622; Gettysburg 635; Johns Hopkins 644, and Western Maryland 645.

Harvey Kuenn Shines For Tigers As They Split With Bosox; White Sox Take Pair To Crowd Indians

By JOE REICHLER
Every day in every way Detroit's Harvey Kuenn is proving he not only is the American League's outstanding shortstop but also one of the best young hitters in baseball.

With the possible exception of outfielder Al Kaline, who suddenly burst into prominence among the power hitters of the circuit, Kuenn has been the big force in the Tigers' surprise showing in the first five weeks of the campaign.

The $55,000 bonus beauty was the Tigers' big hitter yesterday as the fourth-placers divided a doubleheader with Boston and stayed within 4½ games of the league-leading Cleveland Indians. Kuenn got three hits in the first game, won by Boston 10-4, and four in the second, won by Detroit 9-3. He scored three times, drove in two and boosted his batting mark to a runner-up .388.

Chicago's White Sox moved to within one game of the Indians with a 3-0 and 5-4 doubleheader victory over Washington. Bobby Shantz pitched a six-hitter as Kansas City downed New York 4-3 in the first game and Bob Turley struck out 12 as the Yankees won the second 8-4.

Mike Garcia hurled a seven-hit 5-0 shutout to give Cleveland a split after Jim Wilson surprised the Indians by pitching the Orioles to a 4-1 victory over Bob Lemon.

There was little change in the National League picture as six teams split three doubleheaders. In the lone single game, St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 5-1. Cincinnati routed Karl Spooner and Brooklyn 11-4 after the Dodgers had won the opener 7-1 for their 25th victory in 29 games. Sal Maglie pitched the second-place New York Giants to a 9-4 triumph after the Chicago Cubs had captured the opener 5-2. Philadelphia snapped a 13-game losing streak as Robin Roberts whipped Milwaukee 9-1, but not before the Braves had come from behind to nip the Phillies 6-5 in the opener.

Dick Donovan Shines
The White Sox have discovered a new pitching star in Dick Donovan in their drive to overtake the Indians. The 27-year-old right-hander pitched his third shutout and his fourth victory with a three-hitter against Washington. Donovan, who had an 18-8 record at Atlanta after failures with Milwaukee and Detroit, has allowed only one run in his last 31 innings. George Kell's ninth-inning double off loser Bob Porterfield broke up the second game and gave unbeaten Sandy Consuegra his third victory in a relief role.

In Baltimore, Wilson, the ex-Brave, limited the Indians to two hits in seven innings before they finally scored. Gene Woodling's first homer of the season and three singles produced the winning runs against Lemon in the second inning. Garcia allowed seven hits, struck out six and didn't walk a man in the second game.

Shantz, making a strong comeback, pitched his third victory of the season. The 3-6½ lefty, staked to a 4-0 first-inning lead featured by Bill Wilson's three-run homer, blanked the Yanks on two hits until the sixth. Irv Noren's inside-the-park homer with the bases full helped Turley win his sixth game against one defeat in the nightcap.

Philis Halt Streak
The Phillies missed equaling their longest losing streak by one when Roberts limited the Braves to seven hits to halt a 13-game losing streak. A six-run third inning assured Robin of his fourth triumph, almost half of Philadelphia's nine victories.

Eddie Mathews slammed two homers, good for four runs, but it was Del Crandall's single that provided the Braves' winning run in the eighth inning of the opener.

Spooner was routed in the third inning in his first 1955 start. Ted Kuszewski drove in five runs with three singles and his eighth home run of the season for the Reds. Duke Snider rapped his 11th homer as Brooklyn's Don Newcombe gained his fifth victory without a defeat with a seven-hitter in the first game.

Equals N. Y. Record
Don Mueller's pinch hit single in the Giants' six-run winning rally in the nightcap enabled him to equal the New York club record of 24 consecutive hitting games set by Freddy Lindstrom in 1930. Sal Maglie went all the way for his third victory after the Cubs' Warren Hacker outpitched Jim Hearn in the opener.

A three-hitter by Gordon Jones, his first victory of the season, and a two-run double by Wally Moon highlighted the Cards' second straight victory over the Pirates.

SET RECORDS IN MID-ATLANTICS

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Frank McLaughlin, St. Joseph's College middle distance runner, set records in the mile and 800-yard races, as he led the Hawks to a victory in the 43rd annual Middle Atlantic Collegiate Track and Field Championships here.

St. Joseph's compiled 45½ points Saturday to finish ahead of La Salle, which held the championship for the past three years. La Salle had 42 points and Lehigh was third with 23½ points.

McLaughlin's mile time was 4:42.2, set by Frank Crowley of Manhattan in 1932. McLaughlin's 1:52.3 broke the old record of 1:53.5 set in 1948 by Jim Grosholtz of Haverford.

Other performers setting new records were:
Don Martin of Franklin and Marshall in the 120-yard high hurdles, 14.5; Vic Gavin of La Salle in the 220-yard low hurdles, 24.3; and Al Cantell of La Salle in the javelin, 228 feet ½ inch.

Bury Lefty George
In York Sunday
YORK, Pa. (AP)—Funeral services for Thomas Edward "Lefty" George, believed to have been the oldest pitcher ever to play in professional baseball were held here Sunday.

The 68-year-old veteran of four major league teams died on Friday at his home.

Although he retired from major league ball in 1918 George staged a comeback at 57 as a pitcher with the 1944 York White Roses of the now defunct Interstate League.

Burial was in Prospect Hill cemetery.

READING, Pa. (AP)—Lou Johnson, Wilmington, Del., captured the 16-mile feature event of the United Racing Club program yesterday at the Reading Fairgrounds in 15:47.26.

Lucky Loux of Quakertown was second and Buddy Olson of Paulsboro, N.J., third.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Rev. John McCaffrey, president of Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md., has been appointed Bishop of Savannah, Ga., vice Bishop Gardland, deceased.

Married: On Wednesday evening
by Rev. R. Johnson, Mr. Geo. Lytle
(of Joseph), to Miss Apollonia
Hahn — both of this place.

On Tuesday, by Rev. D. D.
Clarke, Mr. Matthew Vander
McDowell, of Franklin County, to Miss

Hall, of Menallen Township, Adams County.

On the 10th inst., by Rev. J. H.
C. Dosh, Mr. Martin Diehl, of New Oxford, to Miss Mary Joanna, daughter of Mr. D. Chamberlin, of Franklin township.

On Tuesday morning the sawmill of the Messrs. Given, near Holly Iron works, was burnt, together with a large quantity of sawed lumber, etc. The fire was communicated, it is supposed, during the previous night, by the lights of some fishermen.

The Rev. Mr. Sentman, of Taneytown, has been appointed Lutheran Missionary at Chicago, Illinois.

A Councillor at Law was fined two dollars and costs, on Wednesday, in a police court for smoking a cigar in the streets of Boston.
Serves him right; smoking in the streets is a vulgar practice. We have no objection to smoking in proper places, if a man can afford it,
and it gives him any gratification.
The street is not a proper place.

American Sunday School Union: Philadelphia, Pa., May 15 — The anniversary of the American Sunday School Union took place this evening, Gov. Pollock presiding.

amounted to $246,000. Balance on hand $300.

Republican Conventions were held last week in New Hampshire,
New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Tennessee, Mississippi and Wisconsin, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Delaware sent Blaine delegations to Chicago. In Maryland there was the usual bitter fight between the Custom-house and anti-Custom-house factions. Although the convention was overwhelmingly Blaine and adopted resolutions in favor of his nomination by a vote of 89 to 14 very singularly a majority of the delegates to Chicago are Grant men. Mississippi is divided between Sherman, Grant and Blaine. Wisconsin is the Washburne with a sprinkling of Blaine and Sherman delegates. Mississippi sends 16 delegates — 6 for Sherman, 5 Blaine, 5 Grant.

Current News and Notes: There appears to be danger from Communist in France on account of the large number of unemployed men.

Lieutenant A. M. Thackeray,
U.S.N., and Miss Eleanor Mann
Sherman, the third daughter of General Sherman, were married at Washington Wednesday evening.
Prince Leonard, the Queen's youngest son, will sail from Liverpool today in the steamer Danian, for Montreal. It is uncertain when the Prince will visit the United States.

The marriage of Miss Amelia M.
Strong, daughter of Justice Strong of the United States Supreme Court, and Mr. Francis Stale of New York, took place at Washington on Thursday.

PROUD OWNER

A house filled with martins; two houses for wrens
And a robin's nest under the eaves.
What more could I ask as reward for my task?
Lucky man, who such prizes receives.

They come in the spring, to depart in the fall.
But they know they are welcome to stay.
Since possession by most is thought reason to boast,
"They are ours!" I can truthfully say.

Those robins, those wren and those martins belong
With the things in the garden
we own.

They are certainly ours, just as much as the flowers.
And will be till southward they've flown.

THE SOWER

One of the famous drawings of the world is that one the French artist Millet did called "The Sower."
It isn't so much the picture in itself, but the meaning behind it. The sower, of seeds, what an important figure in the world!

The mere seed in itself is a miracle. Once placed into the earth, which is God's chemical laboratory, under the power of the sunlight it gives to the world its grains, berries, vegetables, and flowers. Man can only get the soil ready and plant the seed. Then God steps in and does His work.

As the seeds are planted the sower must be very proud and he must do much thinking as he sows. You can imagine that he is full of faith, knowing that his planting is but the first process in anticipating the harvest.

Each one of us is a sower of seeds. Fathers and mothers, and teachers in the schools, are sowers of seeds, planting valuable ideas in the minds of youth. Every good thought is a seed that may bring forth a harvest greater than any we may imagine. A simple kindness may find its way around the world!

The sower of good seeds is a benefactor. All through the Middle West, during the early days of the United States, a simply dressed man — and some say he travelled bare-footed — went from state to state planting apple seeds, doing it so well that he became known as "Johnny Appleseed."

His real name was John Chapman. Who can adequately measure the influence of such a man, or appraise the inspiration others gained from him?

Every day of our lives we are planting some type of seed somewhere. Some of these seeds find their way into the human heart.
It's there that they multiply of themselves! And there are seeds that are planted in the fertile minds of youth that later burst forth as veritable gardens of achievements. How wonderful to be a sower!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "That Greater Love"

"SMILING JACK" M'GRATH SETS TRACK MARK

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—John James (Smiling Jack) McGrath hasn't won the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race in seven attempts but he's the Indianapolis Speedway champion when he has the track to himself.

He beat qualification records for the 2½-mile track yesterday and won his favorite outside spot in the front row for the fifth time in the last seven years.

He set a one-lap record of 143.793 miles an hour and a 10-mile record of 142.580. Nobody ever before hit 142 officially on the 44-year-old track.

Records Tumble

The wiry Inglewood, Calif., master mechanic and driver watched Bill Vukovich take the year-old record and then removed it from Vukovich.

Vukovich, of Fresno, Calif., who has won the last two Memorial Day races, drove his Hopkins Special 10 miles at 141.971, beating McGrath's old mark of 141.03.

After McGrath won back the record, veteran Fred Agabashian, of Albany, Calif., beat Vukovich's performance with 10 miles at

 ideals of our American way of life."

Saturday morning the governor sent a telegram stating, "I want to repeat my regrets . . . on my inability to attend the dedication ceremonies. . . . However my absence does not detract from the very warm wishes I send to you. . . ."

Arthur J. Roth, chairman of the program committee, and a past commander of the VFW and past president of the Home Association who served as master of ceremonies, introduced Clifford Gnau, state VFW adjutant and read from a letter by Mr. Gnau explaining the number given the local post at its organization. "The number 15 was assigned to the post inasmuch as it is located on U.S. Route 15 and the number was then available. It formerly belonged to a post located in Uniontown, Pa."

Marlin O. Walter, Millersburg, VFW Pennsylvania Department senior vice commander, introduced the principal speaker, Past National Commander in Chief Wolman. Gets Inspiration Here

Attorney Wolman told the group he has come to Gettysburg many times "to draw inspiration from those honored dead who are here because they gave the last full measure of devotion to the cause of America. I cannot speak here jokingly or lightly, this is too hallowed a spot for that."

Past Commander Roth paid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. Berger and their son, Jack Berger, "as our VFW family which has given so much for our organization and auxiliary." Mrs. Berger expressed her appreciation and Clyde Berger spoke briefly in reminiscing about "the dark days" of the VFW, when its membership was down to the lowest number allowed, ten. It now has 504 members.

Roth also paid tribute to Attorney Charles W. Wolf, chairman of the building committee.

"His forceful imagination more than that of anyone else on the committee, with the exception perhaps of our accountant, George W. Bohner, can be seen clearly in this building which, we think, is unique as VFW homes go."

Expresses Appreciation
 Attorney Wolf spoke in appreciation of the aid of his committee and presented the keys to the new home to Post Commander Francis L. Wisotzky and to the president of the home association, Thomas J. Collingsworth, both of whom spoke briefly.

William O. Schuman, Greencastle chaplain of the 21st District of the VFW, gave the invocation and benediction. "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner" were played during the program by the Blue and Gray Band under the direction of Charles Cook.

A public inspection of the new home followed the program, after which a buffet supper was served the guests and members. Dancing Saturday concluded the day's activities.

BLAZE CATCHES FIREMEN AWAY

A number of Emmitsburg firemen, called to Frederick for a Civil Defense test Sunday morning, found themselves halted in Thurmont and unable to attend either the CD test or a fire in their own community.

Emmitsburg sent one of its trucks to Frederick when it received the CD test call for a program involving five Maryland counties. The truck started at 10:30, reached Thurmont and because of engine trouble had to halt there.

Arrangements were made with Fairfield firemen to "cover" for the absent Emmitsburg firemen. At 11:20 the Emmitsburg company was called to a fire in a house owned by John Long, near Mother's Station on the "old Byrd farm."

The one truck remaining at Emmitsburg responded as did two trucks from Fairfield. Started in Couch Emmitsburg firemen were high in their praise for the prompt assistance rendered by the Fairfield firemen. The blaze, which caused several hundred dollars damage was reported as apparently starting in a couch, then burned to the floor, up a stairway and into partitions in the second floor.

The farm house is unoccupied, Emmitsburg firemen said, but the blaze was discovered by the Longs who reside in a home across the road.

In addition two ranges and an electric freezer will be awarded in connection with the school sessions. A number of other prizes will also be given away during the seven meetings of the school.

Shealer, Jacobs Win Horse Show Prizes

Two Gettysburg men won three ribbons each at the Westminster Horse Show Sunday, and $27 in prize money. Richard Shealer, Springs Ave. Ext., and Steve Jacobs, Broadway, were the only Gettysburgians at the show.

Shealer won the Pole Bending event, and finished second in the Western and third in the Pleasure Class. Jacobs took a second place in the Pole Bending, second in the Pleasure Class, and fourth in the Western. There were "several hundred" contestants in all.

Surgeons here found the child had a fractured skull and a paralysis and directed that a specialist be secured for an operation. Mr. and Mrs. Saylor and Mr. and Mrs. Hemler took the youngster to Baltimore Sunday afternoon with a Maryland state police escort, arranged by the hospital here, leading the car to the hospital.

This morning at 9 o'clock surgeons at Baltimore began the operation. Physicians at Baltimore said this morning following the operation that it had been "successful," but "it is too early as yet to say more than that he is still critical."

John McNamara, a student at Mount Saint Mary's College, was admitted as a patient at the Warner Hospital early Sunday morning. Hospital authorities said they were told by a group of Mount students that they found McNamara lying along the road near the school, unconscious and brought him to the hospital.

McNamara had suffered a broken nose, lacerations of the face and a laceration of the right hand with a severed tendon to the thumb. McNamara said he had no recollection of what may have caused his injuries or how he came to be along the road.

Nomination Of 43 Judges, Some Sheriffs And Mayors Holds Spotlight At Primary

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nominees for county, city, borough and township jobs are chosen by both parties tomorrow in 1955 local primary elections.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time, throughout the state as Republican and Democratic general election opponents are named for such offices as mayor, sheriff, district attorney, county commissioner, magistrate, councilman and county judge.

Because there is no statewide office at stake the results are not expected to indicate a positive trend in the first voting since the Democratic sweep of Pennsylvania last fall. However, the election in Philadelphia, a Democratic stronghold four years since Joseph S. Clark Jr. became the first Democratic mayor in 60 years, will be closely studied.

Philadelphia and 28 third class cities including Harrisburg and Erie, will choose candidates for mayor. Mayoralty primaries are scheduled in 15 western Pennsylvania third class cities and 13 others in eastern Pennsylvania.

Nominate 43 Judges

Nominees for 43 judgeships in common pleas and orphans courts in 29 counties and for municipal and county courts in Philadelphia and Allegheny county also will be named.

A third item on the ballot is local option referendum on the question of liquor and (or) beer sales in 79 communities in 38 counties.

State chairmen of both parties looked to the elections with confidence.

Miles Horst, Republican chairman, predicted that the proposed tax program of the Democratic state administration would turn the elections toward the GOP.

"As a result of this betrayal of campaign pledges which were repeated over and over," Horst declared in a statement issued at Harrisburg, "the people are looking again to the Republican party for the protection of their rights and the preservation of their liberties."

"Won't Lose Ground"

State Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic chairman, answered that he was confident the vote will be "a convincing demonstration that our party has no intention of losing ground by political apathy. Democratic registrations through the state have increased significantly and I have no reason to doubt that the steady inflation of our voting strength will enable us to survive the attacks of our critics."

Some five million voters are registered in the state with Republicans holding an edge of more than 600,000. Since the general election a year ago the Republican rolls have decreased 250,000 to slightly below 2 1/2 million. Democrats have picked up about 21,000 names for a total just over 2 million.

Interest in Philadelphia centers on the Republican primary for mayor and is being called the strangest on record. Richardson Dilworth, Clark's running mate four years ago, virtually is conceded the Democratic nomination to run for Clark's post. Clark did not seek re-election.

3-Cornered Race

The Republican side is a three-man race among George P. Williams 3rd, who has most organization backing; W. Thacher Longstreth and Magistrate James J. Clotier.

In Harrisburg, Rep. Nolan F. Ziegler has GOP opposition from J. Calvin Frank.

In Pittsburgh, James F. Malone, Republican district attorney, is seeking another term, against opposition from Harry Alan Sherman, a lawyer. Edward C. Boyle, former U. S. attorney, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Third class cities choosing nominees for mayor are: Allentown, Carbonate, Coatsville, Hazleton, Lebanon, Wilkes-Barre, Williamsport, Chester, Easton, Harrisburg, Lock Haven, York, Reading, Altoona, Arnold, Bradford, Dubois, Erie, Farrell, Greensburg, Johnstown, Monongahela, New Castle, Oil City, Sharon, Titusville, Uniontown and Washington.

6 Judge Candidates

Allegheny County will name six judge candidates; Philadelphia five. Other counties where judicial nominees will be selected are: Chester, Delaware, Montgomery, Cambria, Lancaster, Erie, Bucks, Northumberland, Cumberland, Fayette, Greene, Berks, Washington, Lehigh, Mercer, Beaver, Forest, Warren, Franklin, Indiana, Juniata, Perry, Sullivan, Wyoming, Lackawanna, Adams, Fulton, Bedford and Lawrence.

In some there are no contests. One of the oddest races for nomination as mayor will be in Johnstown where the incumbent and three former mayors are all entered. Mayor Walter E. Rose, a former state representative, has opposition from Daniel J. Shields, who formerly held the post, and Steve Lengyel. On the Democratic slate are John A. Conway, Cambria County sheriff, and Eddie McCloskey, a city councilman, both former mayors.

Woman For Sheriff

Mrs. Ruth Love, a former newspaper reporter and for five years an investigator and adviser to Operation Crusade, an anti-communist campaign, is seeking the Westmoreland County nomination for sheriff on the Republican ticket. She is opposed by two men, one supported by the county GOP organization Mrs. Love is the first woman nominee for sheriff in history.

Running for nomination on the Democratic ticket as mayor of Erie is Arthur J. Gardner, appointed by City Council to fill the unexpired term of Mayor Thomas W. Flatley who was sent to jail on graft charges. He is opposed by two others. There also is a contest for the GOP nomination.

In Luzerne County, there are opposing slates on both Democratic and Republican tickets.

Have Separate Slates

On the Democratic side, Dr. John Dorris, the county chairman, and State Sen. Patrick J. Toole are backing separate slates of candidates.

On the Republican side, some candidates formerly supported by former Gov. John S. Fine are battling with a new bloc led by former state Sen. T. Newell Wood, an old Fine opponent. Fine withdrew from the county contest because of the lack of harmony within the party organization.

All but nine of the 79 municipalities involved in the liquor voting have balloted once or more often on the same questions. Seventy-one communities now prohibiting retail liquor or beer sale will vote on permitting the sale of one or the other or both. Sixty-eight elections will be held in communities now permitting the sale of one or both.

SENATE HAS NO TAX MEASURE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, feels that an administration-backed sales tax could win Senate approval but that the upper House "is not going to propose any tax program."

In a weekend interview Mahany predicted:

"If the Democrats are using the income tax as a stalking horse for a sales tax carrying a Republican label, we'll be here until Christmas."

"We're not going to propose any tax program. Sending the income tax to the Senate isn't going to force us to come up with a substitute," he added.

The administration has proposed a classified income tax program and maintains it will not offer a substitute.

Mahany said that "maybe the governor, by beating the Democrats over the head, can get it (classified income tax) through the House." But he doubted whether the Senate Finance Committee, controlled by the GOP, would ever approve the administration program for a Senate floor vote.

"The administration's income tax in its entirety is distasteful to Republican senators."

The Democrats control the House by a 112-96 margin, six more than the total necessary to pass a bill. Republicans control the Senate, 26-24, with just enough votes to pass a bill.

MRS. AMERICA IS MOTHER OF 5

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The selection of Mrs. Ramona Dietemeyer, of Lincoln, Neb., as Mrs. America 1955 should be a popular choice. Her strongest backers are among the 48 contestants she defeated for the crown of the nation's No. 1 homemaker at Ormond Beach Saturday.

Said runner-up Mrs. Billie Dorris, 27, of Nashville, Tenn.: "She could not help winning; she has everything — poise, graciousness and beauty. And she looks and acts the part of a homemaker. I know her five children have the loveliest mother in the world."

Mrs. Kathleen Girvan, 32, the third-place winner from Chico, Calif., said, "I was for her all the time. I knew she had to be Mrs. America."

Blonde Mrs. Dietemeyer, 35, is a Sunday school teacher, choir singer and PTA president back home. Her husband Carl, 41, editor of the magazine Nebraska Farmer, is chairman of the congregation of Christ Lutheran Church. They have five children.

Competition Serves Consumers Best

In the production of Natural Gas or any other product

Millions of homes like yours have natural gas because more than 8,000 producers compete at great financial risk to find it and get it from the ground. The producers also compete to sell it to the pipelines who bring it to your local gas company.

Now, over the opposition of responsible groups and authorities, Federal price-fixing threatens your long-term gas supply and the very principle of free competitive production.

Read what these representative groups and individuals say:

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION
JEROME K. KUYKENDALL, CHAIRMAN

"We believe that no sound fuel policy can be erected upon such discrimination as presently exists against natural gas and in favor of other competitive fuels... Congress should not single out natural gas as the only one among those fuels over which an artificial ceiling should be placed." March 22, 1955.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON ENERGY SUPPLIES AND RESOURCES POLICY

"In the interest of a sound fuel policy and the protection of the national defense and consumer interests... we believe the Federal Government should not control the production, gathering, processing or sale of natural gas prior to its entry into an interstate transmission line." February 26, 1955.

FLORIDA LEAGUE OF MUNICIPALITIES

"The extension of Federal regulation to competitive producers of raw products—whether such raw products be natural gas or some other product—and the assigning of a regulated utility status to the producers of such products, is a policy contrary to the true American political philosophy." November 23, 1954.

AMERICAN NATIONAL CATTLEMEN'S ASSOCIATION

"Gas is an important product of ranch and farm land. This decision... may well be the beginning of laws to regulate all industries in this country, including the livestock industry." January 12, 1955.

AMERICAN FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

"Since the field price of natural gas is adequately regulated by competition we favor legislation providing that field prices of natural gas shall not be regulated by the Federal Power Commission." December 16, 1954.

NATIONAL GRANGE

"The Grange is opposed to permitting the Federal Government to fix the price at which the landowner or producer sells natural gas." November, 1954.

TITO ASSURES WEST HE'S NOT CHANGING SIDES

By BORIS BOSKOVIC
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito has assured the West that his coming conference with top leaders of the Soviet Union does not mean Yugoslavia is "changing sides." He still intends to keep his country out of all blocs—Western, Soviet or neutral "third force," he declared.

Speaking at the North Adriatic port of Pula, Tito said yesterday he wants good relations with both the West and the Soviets. He promised there will be no secret deals "behind the curtains" at his meeting in Belgrade late this month with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev and Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. "The whole West will know what we have discussed and what we have agreed upon," the President declared. "Yugoslavia is grateful to the West and particularly to the United States, which has given and is still giving aid."

"Not Changing Sides"
Tito restated his previous policy that he will not accept aid with political conditions attached. "Aid is not a bribe," he added. "They in the West should not think that we are changing sides," he continued. "We wish best relations with the West. We are not going to turn aside from this road, but we wish to have free hands to strengthen peace . . ."

It was Tito's first comment on the announcement Saturday of the Russians' visit.

Implying that Moscow had asked for the meeting, Tito said he told the Russians Yugoslavia wants to keep its friends and will tolerate no foreign interference in its internal affairs. He said the Kremlin had consented to this condition.

Charged Dictation
The Yugoslav Communist leader told his listeners the visitors would be "new people." Not those responsible for "the tremendous pressure and insults" which his regime had suffered from the Soviets in the past.

In breaking with Russia in 1948, Tito charged that the Kremlin was

New Siamese Twins In "Fair Condition"

DETROIT (AP)—Siamese twin girls born yesterday to a 27-year-old woman were reported in "fair condition" today at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital.

Hospital officials gave the babies joined at the chest, "one chance in 100,000 to survive."

The mother, Mrs. Nona Herring, was said to be in "good" condition. The hospital said the twins, weighing a total of 12 pounds 14 ounces, were normal in every respect except for the joining. Preliminary X-rays indicated they had separate chests.

BREWSTER OFF HAIPHONG, North Viet Nam (AP)—They came out from Haiphong in U.S.-built landing ships and boarded this U.S. Navy transport Saturday, leaving behind the rich delta port and its treasures of thriving industries and nearby lush rice lands to the strict new order of Ho Chi Minh's Red Vietnam.

They were the rear guard: 1,900 dark-visaged Algerians and other French Union troops; 20 French army WACs weary from the strain of the past months; 500 Vietnamese refugees; a lone American priest. The landing ships, pulled alongside trying to dictate to him and that Soviet agents were meddling in Yugoslavia's internal affairs.

Many Western diplomats believe Russia in the conference will try to interest Tito in a policy of strict neutrality, similar to that imposed on Austria as the chief condition for Soviet agreement to sign the Austrian independence treaty.

Hottest news in Hardtops is the 4-Door Riviera

Why take anything less than the sensation of the year?

WHEN you learn what's been done in the automobile pictured here, you can easily see why this beauty is winning rave notices coast to coast.

Buick engineers took the hardtop body design that has been growing tremendously in popularity over the past six years—and gave it four doors instead of two.

Simple? Sure—to all outward appearances.

But it took a brand-new kind of body with wholly new structural principles to do it—to bring this long-awaited new kind of automobile to the public in volume numbers and at popular prices.

For this is a true hardtop—with the sleek and racy look of a Convertible, because there are no center posts in the window areas on either side.

And now it has front doors for the front-seat passengers—and rear doors for the rear-seat passengers—plus room increased to the size of a full Sedan.

(It took some special kind of engineering magic, you can be sure, to hinge all four doors at their forward edges for greater safety, and more ease of entering and exiting.)

HOTTEST NEWS IN AUTOMATIC DRIVES IS VARIABLE PITCH DYNAFLOW

It's the world's first transmission with the switch-pitch principle of the modern airplane's variable pitch propeller. You get better gas mileage in cruising. You switch the pitch just by pressing the gas pedal—and get lightning-like response for get-away, or for a sudden safety-surge of accelerating power. It's the performance thrill of the year. Standard on Roadmaster, optional on other Series at no more extra cost than earlier versions of this wonder drive.

So it looks like Buick has scooped the industry again—and come up with the hottest news in hardtops since Buick originated the first two-door hardtop six years ago.

And you can have it now—in the low-price SPECIAL or the supremely-powered CENTURY—and either one at the modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door.

Drop in on us today—this week, for sure—and see how easily and how quickly one can be yours.

NEED VACCINE AGAINST LABOR STRIFE IN U.S.

Editor's Note — Norman Walker, Associated Press Labor reporter, wrote in January that labor unions were shooting for big economic gains and that 1955 would be "a turbulent year in labor-management relations." With the year one third over, Walker takes a new look at the situation.

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP) — They'd better start working on a vaccine against labor strife. The disease is rampant this spring and could spread into a summer epidemic. Strikes are increasing. Those so far this year have been rough, tough and prolonged.

Some even more threatening situations are just around the corner in the auto, steel, electrical, meat-packing, maritime and copper industries, to name a few. Even John L. Lewis may try to hit the strike headlines again.

What's Behind It?
Mounting labor troubles normally come with the spring season. But this spring's rash of strikes seems to herald a new intensity and determination in bargaining, a considerable contrast from 1954's record labor peace.

What's behind the apparent fight-to-the-finish attitude in labor negotiations?

Unions seem to feel they were too backward last year. They point to employers' profits statements and say 1955 is "a big money year." Besides their usual wage demands, they're pushing for such other costly benefits as guaranteed employment, pensions and profit-sharing plans.

120 Walkouts Loom
Figures compiled by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service show that service field staffers were working on less than 50 strikes involving some 8,000 workers in January, but by May they were trying to put out the fire in more than 120 walkouts which had idled 100,000.

An important factor in the cloudy labor relations picture is the "pattern" factor. This relates to the follow-the-leader tendency of employers and unions to settle their disputes on the bargaining pattern set by others.

For instance, President David J. McDonald of the CIO United Steelworkers will be out to match or exceed in the steel industry what Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, manages to extract from the auto industry. However, steel contracts don't permit negotiation of guaranteed wage plans such as Reuther seeks in autos.

Lewis Is Waiting
Next month is likely to tell much of the 1955 labor story. The auto union's contract with Ford expires June 1 and with General Motors June 7. Steel wage talks mature June 30. Several maritime union contracts expire at the end of June.

Even the ailing coal industry has been showing signs of life in the general economic pickup. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, has waited more than two years for coal operators to earn enough money to warrant his making a bid for part of it.

The value of the U. S. corn crop exceeds that of the production of all silver, gold, coal and iron mines in the country, says the National Geographic Society.

Leader Goes To His Farm In Dover

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader spent the weekend at his Dover, York County, farm—the first two full days at "home" since his inauguration last Jan. 18. The governor said he would turn management of his poultry farm over to Tony Chambers, Ames, Iowa, during the weekend. Leader's wife, Mary Jane, has been managing the farm since her husband's administration began.

Shortly after his inauguration, the chief executive and his wife took up residence at the State House at nearby Indiantown Gap.

SNARES TROUT 24 INCHES LONG

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP)—Wesley Taylor, Philadelphia, walked away with one of the biggest catches of the day on Friday at the 22nd annual opening of Fisherman's Paradise.

Taylor caught a brown trout measuring 24 inches and weighing 56 ounces. But Calvin Bonnell, Rockwood, went him 20 ounces better on a brown trout measuring 23 1/2 inches.

On the women's side, Mary Sedlak, Fayette City, checked out with a brownie measuring 23 inches and weighing 76 ounces. And 12-year-old Nancy David, Brookville, snagged a brown trout measuring 19 1/2 inches and weighing 44 ounces.

State Fish Commission figures showed the Paradise drew an estimated 2,000 opening day crowd. The season runs through July 16 at the Paradise with fishing legal from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. EDT, daily except Sunday.

U.S. Is Striving To Release Yanks

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sherman Adams, assistant to President Eisenhower, says the United States will use "every peaceful means" to secure the release of 944 Americans being held by the Chinese Communists.

"We are at present concerned mainly with the efforts undertaken by the United Nations to bring about their release," he said. "These efforts are continuing and we have hope that they may yet succeed."

Adams made the statement in a letter to Daniel W. Shaub, state adjutant of the American Legion. The state Legion on Friday made public the letter received in answer to a resolution urging the President to do something to secure the release of the Americans.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

The man happened to be a plumber. He was asked first if the service his wife had received had been satisfactory. No, he had no complaint. "What would it cost the hospital," he was asked, "if you were to provide it with plumbing service over a continuous three-day period." Plumbers' rates are $22 for an eight-hour day," he replied. "What about the night shifts?" he was asked. "That would be double time — $44 each." So the cost for one day of constant attendance by one plumber would be $110.

"That's right," agreed the plumber. "And for three days it would be $330." "And that's for wages alone. It doesn't include material," the hospital attendant continued. "It takes more than 400 full-time employees to run a good-sized hospital—2 1/2 employees per patient or five-sixths of one person's efforts, around the clock, for your wife."

"The hospital supplied food, linen, medication, surgical equipment, laboratory services, telephone service, dressings and techniques and skills. The hospital had a responsibility for the safety of your wife, too." There was a pause. "Do you still think your bill was too high?" "For the first time," said the plumber, "somebody has taken the time to explain to me in language. I can understand the charges in a hospital." One more bit of analysis—all hospital services average a cost of $111 an hour, which can be compared with the average pay of a wage earner.

Asserts Ike Will Not Appease Reds

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) today was certain that President Eisenhower would not appease Russia in the proposed Big Four top-level conference.

"Some do not want this get-together of the heads of state of the major east-west powers because they fear appeasement," Duff told the junior-senior banquet of Elizabethtown College Friday night.

"But I'm sure that one who will not appease is the President of the United States," he added.

The proposed Big Four conference would bring together the heads of the United States, Russia, England and France, Duff said. "To seek ways of avoiding nuclear warfare."

INSPECTORS TO CHECK WYETH PLANT NEXT

By LEE GARRETT
WASHINGTON (AP)—With polio vaccine from two laboratories already freed for use, Public Health Service inspectors headed for a third today as they continued their safety double-check.

Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele announced yesterday approval of all supplies shipped by Eli Lilly & Co. of Indianapolis. The action, two days after similar warranty of the product of Parke, Davis & Co. of Detroit, raised to about 1,400,000 shots the vaccine supply released since the safety recheck started a week ago.

A Lilly spokesman said enough vaccine for several million more shots is nearing completion, but will not be ready for shipment until about June 1 because of necessary testing.

Release of that already snapped permitted at least limited resumption in 16 states: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Louisiana, Mississippi, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

Some of the states moved to go ahead immediately but others had such limited supplies that they withheld announcement of any such plans.

Wyeth Next

Scheele said the inspectors would go next, perhaps today, to the plant of Wyeth, Inc., at Philadelphia, but there was no estimate in how soon a third release could be expected. The laboratories are being checked in the order in which they started producing the vaccine.

Yesterday's approval of the Lilly vaccine applied to 3,600,000 cubic centimeters, much of it already used. But Scheele estimated sufficient vaccine remained for treatment of 378,000 more children. He had estimated more than a million children would benefit from Friday's release of the Parke, Davis product.

A large blast furnace may require up to 2,150,000 refractory bricks in its construction and 900,000 more in its auxiliary facilities.

Lebanon Valley Freshman Dies

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—John Ray McCullough, 19, of Carlisle, a freshman at Lebanon Valley College, died Saturday at Carlisle hospital of unknown causes.

Dr. Howard A. Naegle, Cumberland County coroner, said he would perform an autopsy to discover the cause of death. The youth was taken to the hospital after being found unconscious in his bedroom. He was dead upon arrival.
